FIRST NCAA BID:
Head coach Bob Reinhart led Georgia State to its first NCAA Tournament in 1991. The Panthers, led by Chris Collier and Phillip Luckydo, won the TAAC Tournament as the No. 5 seed. That earned State a date with Arkansas in the NCAA Southeast Regional, played at The Omni in Atlanta, just blocks from the Georgia State campus.

EVERY GAME ON 100,000-WATT WRAS-FM

All Georgia State basketball games are broadcast on 100,000-watt WRAS-FM 88.5 radio. All games can also be heard on the Internet at www.wras.org.

Now in his 29th season, Dave Cohen is the Voice of the Georgia State Panthers. He has broadcast more than 800 Panther games.

Former Georgia State player Rodney Turner joined the broadcast in 2007-08 as color analyst. Turner played for the Panthers from 1986-89.

Each broadcast begins 30 minutes before tipoff with Panther Sports Talk. Then, 15 minutes prior to tipoff, the Panthers Pre-Game Show features Cohen and head coach Ron Hunter.

Also assisting Cohen on the Georgia State broadcasts as studio hosts are Gary Lowe, Edgar Treiguts, Chris Culwell, John Morgo, Matthew Simmons, Chris Hill, Jason Hanes and Amy Walker.

In addition to calling the play-by-play for every men's basketball game, Cohen is also in his 14th year as Georgia State's Broadcast Coordinator, overseeing the radio broadcasts for women's basketball, baseball and other events. He also works in the Georgia State University Department of Alumni Relations.

A native of Lowell, Mass., and a graduate of Georgia State, Dave is married to Carol Cohen, a former Georgia State associate athletic director who now works as the Director of the Student Advisement Center. The couple has two sons.

RON HUNTER RADIO SHOW

Georgia State head coach Ron Hunter will be featured on a weekly radio call-in show on "NewsTalk 1160 (WCFO-AM) ... The Talk of the Town."

Co-hosted by Panther play-by-play voice Dave Cohen, the weekly show will air most Mondays during the season.

GSU ON TV

The Georgia State basketball team has appeared on television more than 25 times over the last four seasons, including games on Comcast Sports (CSS) and the ESPN family of networks.

Coming off its most memorable men's basketball season in 2010-11, the Colonial Athletic Association continues to show why it is one of the top conferences both athletically and academically.

The Colonial Athletic Association continues to build on its reputation as one of the nation's top collegiate conferences both athletically and academically.

The CAA encompasses five of the nation's nine largest metropolitan areas with a geographic footprint that stretches from Boston to Atlanta. The conference has produced 16 national team champions in five different sports, 33 individual national champions, 12 national players of the year, 12 national coaches of the year and 12 Honda Award winners. Just as impressive, however, are the honors accumulated away from competition, which include five Rhodes Scholars and 22 NCAA post-graduate scholars. In 2010-11, more than 1,900 of the league's 4,000 student-athletes received the Commissioner's Academic Award after posting at least a 3.2 grade point average while lettering in a varsity sport. The conference had 21 teams in 12 different sports receive NCAA Public Recognition Awards based on the latest Academic Progress Report released in 2011.

The landscape of the conference stretches along the majority of the East Coast, and includes six of the nation's top 25 media markets – New York (1), Philadelphia (4), Boston (7), Atlanta (8), Washington, D.C. (9) and Baltimore (25). The number of television homes in the CAA market exceeds 20 million.

The CAA conducts championships in 23 sports. Male athletes compete for championships in baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, lacrosse, soccer, swimming & diving, tennis, track & field and wrestling. Female athletes battle for conference titles in basketball, cross country, field hockey, golf, lacrosse, rowing, soccer, softball, swimming & diving, tennis, track & field and volleyball. In 2010-11, 25 teams earned NCAA Tournament berths and 50 student-athletes received All-America honors in 13 different sports.

The conference has made its presence known nationally in men's basketball with two teams – George Mason (2006) and VCU (2011) – advancing to the NCAA Final Four over the past five years. Three CAA teams earned NCAA Tournament berths for the first time in 2011 as conference champion Old Dominion was joined by VCU and George Mason. VCU knocked off USC, Georgetown, Purdue, Florida State and top-seeded Kansas, while Mason defeated Villanova. The Rams were ranked No. 6 in the final ESPN/USA Today Top 25 poll, which was the highest ranking ever for a CAA team. In 2006, George Mason captured the nation's imagination by becoming the first mid-major program since 1979 to reach the Final Four, posting victories over Michigan State, North Carolina, Wichita State and Connecticut along the way.

Six CAA women's basketball teams advanced to postseason play in 2011. James Madison represented the conference in the NCAA Tournament after capturing its second straight conference championship. Delaware, Drexel, UNC Wilmington, Old Dominion and VCU participated in the WNIT, with the Seahawks advancing to the second round. ODU, which won an NCAA-record 17 straight CAA titles from 1992-2008, boasts three national championships (1979, 1980, 1985) and was national runner-up in 1997.

The conference also excels in many other sports. CAA squads have combined to win 10 field hockey national titles since the championship began in 1981. At least two women's soccer teams have advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament in three of the past four seasons and William & Mary gave the CAA a team in the final 16 of the NCAA Men's Soccer Championship for the sixth time in the last nine years. In men's cross country, William &

Mary advanced to the NCAA Championship for the 12th straight year and finished 19th overall. In the pool, Towson's Meredith Budner finished as the runner-up in the 500 freestyle and 1650 freestyle at the 2011 NCAA Championship and received All-America honors along with George Mason's Ashley Danner. Delaware and Towson have each reached the Final Four of the NCAA Men's Lacrosse Championship in the past decade. The CAA has sent multiple teams to the NCAA Baseball Championship in nine of the last 14 years and has had at least 12 players selected in the eight of the last nine Major League Baseball drafts. The conference also boasts numerous All-Americans in lacrosse, tennis, golf, track and field, women's lacrosse and wrestling.

CAA member institutions are committed to excellence in the classroom. The Colonial Academic Alliance was created in 2002 by the league's presidents with a goal of expanding their partnership to all aspects of university life outside of intercollegiate athletics. Among the programs that have been established are an undergraduate research conference, coordination of study abroad programs and granting visiting academic status to student-athletes traveling to an away contest so that they have access to libraries, academic resource centers and computer labs.

Commissioner Thomas E. Yeager has guided the CAA since its inception. The conference traces its roots back to 1983 when three of its current members- George Mason University, James Madison University, and the College of William and Mary - were aligned with East Carolina University, the United States Naval Academy and the University of Richmond as a basketball league (ECAC South). During the next two years, the league added 11 sports, acquired two new members (the University of North Carolina at Wilmington and American University) and decided to form a new association. The transformation from ECAC South to CAA took place on June 6, 1985.

Charter members George Mason, James Madison, UNC Wilmington and William and Mary were joined by Old Dominion University in 1991 and by Virginia Commonwealth University in 1995. The conference added the University of Delaware, Drexel University, Hofstra University and Towson University in 2001. Georgia State University and Northeastern University became members of the conference on July 1, 2005.

TWELVE CAA SCHOOLS WILL PARTICIPATE IN THE TENTH ANNUAL

A record total of 142 teams – representing 16 collegiate athletic conferences– will compete in the three-day event (February 17-19), with the entire Sears BracketBusters slate of matchups to be announced in late January. Delaware, George Mason, Georgia State, Hofstra, Northeastern and VCU will serve as host schools, while Drexel, James Madison, UNCW, Old Dominion, Towson and William & Mary will play on the road.

Of the 71 games, a minimum of 13 will be televised with six contests on ESPN2, five games on ESPNU and two games on ESPN3.

The CAA has had great success in BracketBusters, with the conference posting a 16-10 record in televised contests over the past seven years. Last season the CAA was 4-1 in televised games, which was the best of any participating league. The CAA has had five teams chosen for televised matchups in four of the last five years.
