NCAA PRINCIPLE OF SPORTING BEHAVIOR AND CONDUCT

For intercollegiate athletics to promote the character development of participants, to enhance the integrity of higher education and to promote civility in society, student-athletes, coaches, and all others associated with these athletics programs and events should adhere to such fundamental values as respect, fairness, civility, honesty and responsibility. These values should be manifest not only in athletics participation, but also in the broad spectrum of activities affecting the athletics program.

Georgia State University announced in 2012 that it would join the Sun Belt Conference. On July 1, 2013, the Panther athletic department became eligible to win championships in every league-sponsored sport and a year later was fully reclassified to the Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS).

Is the Sun Belt Conference a modern-day fixture among the decision-makers in the ever-changing world of college athletics?

Or is the league a long-time innovator, responsible for advancements in many sports that we now take for granted?

Is the Sun Belt home of an alumni base that includes national and international leaders in the areas of government, business and entertainment as well as athletics?

Or is the conference one that has established itself as a national contender in a variety of sports, and one that continues to evolve in ways that directly benefit its institutions and more importantly its student-athletes?

The answer is yes, yes, yes and yes.

The Sun Belt Conference's "Together We Rise" motto isn't just hyperbole. It's proven fact on many different levels, not the least being its place in the hierarchy of collegiate athletics. As the league prepares to celebrate four decades since its founding in 1976, the Sun Belt occupies a "seat at the table" as a permanent part of the NCAA's 24-member Board of Directors. That alone insures that the conference has a voice in determining the future as college sports continues to change and evolve.

Changing and evolving have been hallmarks of the league since its existence. College basketball might be a shadow of its current self had the Sun Belt not led the way in the establishment of the shot clock. The conference also wrote history at the start of the century when it inaugurated football as a league sport – becoming the first already-existing Division I conference to take such action.

The Sun Belt was originally founded to give home to some of the nation's premier mid-major basketball teams, and the league's history is dotted with success in many different men's and women's sports through its history. But when the desire for a higher national profile and the desire of its membership brought about football sponsorship in 2001, the conference was figuratively reborn, and now stands as one of the 10 premier college football leagues in the country.

And, with the recent debut of the College Football Playoff, the Sun Belt is guaranteed universal access based strictly on performance. A worthy football team in the Sun Belt can be in the national championship picture, and the league is a permanent part of the "Group of Five" conferences (joining the American Athletic Conference, the Mountain West Conference, the Mid-American Conference and Conference USA) that will send its highest-rated champion to a premier Jan. 1 bowl game.

In only 15 years of football, the Sun Belt has earned ties to no fewer than seven bowl games. In addition to the potential of the College Football Playoff, the league has guaranteed spots in the R+L Carriers New Orleans Bowl, the GoDaddy Bowl, the Raycom Media Camellia Bowl and the new Cure Bowl for bowl-eligible teams each and every season. Beginning in 2016, the Sun Belt will also be part of a conference rotation that will send teams to the Popeyes Bahamas Bowl and the Miami Beach Bowl.

Football, though, is by no means the only hallmark of success for the league. Just this past season, Georgia State knocked off third-seeded Baylor in the NCAA men's basketball tournament and Little Rock defeated sixth-seeded Texas A&M in the women's NCAA tournament. With the league's postseason tournaments headed back to the conference's home city, the "Big Easy" of New Orleans, and a plethora of standouts returning for this season, the league is poised for another successful hoops season.

Baseball and softball continue to put the league in the national spotlight during the spring season, with deep runs into postseason play and high visibility in the national polls becoming a tradition. UL Lafayette's baseball team was the nation's No. 1 team in the final third of the 2014 season and has reached the NCAA Super Regional round each of the past two years, while the UL Lafayette softball team has advanced to the Super Regional three straight years including a trip to the 2014 College World Series.

With those changes, opportunities for student-athletes to succeed both on and off the field have never been greater, and the Sun Belt is well positioned in the areas of scholarship, student welfare and academic success. During the 2014-15 academic year alone, Sun Belt member institutions awarded nearly $50 million in scholarship funds to over 3,084 student-athletes while also contributing over $2 million from the Student Assistance Fund (SAF) to over 1,779 student-athletes.

The league and its institutions rewrite the Sun Belt's record book each year in grade-point averages and academic honors, and member schools' success in the NCAA's APR rankings provide even more proof of the league's academic commitment. In 2015, the conference doubled the number of teams that received NCAA Public Recognition Awards, given to teams that post APR scores in the top 10 percent of their sport, as 14 teams were among the national honorees compared to seven in 2014.

The strength of any league lies in its membership, with the Sun Belt's 11-school football membership including Appalachian State, Arkansas State, Georgia Southern, Georgia State, Idaho, UL Lafayette, UL Monroe, New Mexico State, South Alabama, Texas State and Troy. Little Rock and UT Arlington compete in all sports as non-football members while Idaho and New Mexico State are football-only members.

PREVIEW

The First Look At The Season

"It" was contagious and "it" started spreading in June when new team members and new assistant coaches arrived on campus to begin summer classes and workouts.

"It" would be a contagious attitude of energy, enthusiasm, excitement and positive reinforcement among each team member.

With 10 new players arriving on campus and two new assistant coaches, it was immediate right away that there was a fresh starting point for the 2015-16 season.

"With so much unknown, it was a tremendous feeling to see the positive attitudes, can-do spirit and work ethic all these new folks were bringing to the returning group," head coach Sharon Baldwin-Tener said. "Many of the newcomers came from winning programs and had achieved, so they brought a great work ethic and desire to get themselves better and make their teammates better."

The three summer months served a solid purpose. "Everyone was working hard on conditioning and holding each other accountable on and off the floor," the sixth-year GSU coach noted. "Their competitiveness in everything we did, whether it was the classroom (3.17 team GPA), in the community service projects or the conditioning workouts was contagious and provided positive results."

What would be the first observations the 16th-year head coach noticed of this 2015-16 team when it returned for fall semester?

Coach Sharon Baldwin-Tener begins her sixth season at Georgia State and helped Makeba Ponder earn Freshman Mid-Major All-America honors last year.

"It is obvious that we have a deep and talented roster, which will make the competition for playing time tough and will make the practices intense and productive," Baldwin-Tener said. "I sensed the players holding one another accountable for their actions and encouraging one another to do a little more."

Winners win for a reason.

"Those players who come from winning programs have a sense of competitiveness and a willingness to push themselves and push their teammate because they have that winning attitude and extra work effort," the coach noted. "Our roster is made up of a lot of good people with good work habits and a desire to improve."

Georgia State returns four players, including guard Makeba Ponder, who tied the school record for 3-point baskets and was a Freshman Mid-Major All-America pick. The returnees include two seniors in guard Ashlee Cole and forward Morgan Jackson, plus a starting forward in sophomore Kennesha Nichols.

The Panthers add two starting transfers from Division I who sat out last year at GSU (Tatianna Jackson and Erica Norwood) and three junior college post players (Alaysia Mitchell, Taleah Williams and D'Arcy Draper). A top-flight recruiting class of four freshmen should start providing dividends early. That quartet includes forward Astaja Tyghter, point guard Madison Newby, wing K.K. Williams and guard Kierra Henry.

"We had some injuries and fought through healing and rehabilitation, but I think everyone has worked hard

The First Look At The Season

Senior Ashlee Cole has 451 career points and 61 career 3-point baskets as she prepares for a larger to get themselves ready to start in November,” coach added.

Assistant coaches Latricia Trammell (three NAIA championships as a head coach) and Cameron Sealey (all-conference player and three-year assistant) join returning assistant coach Erin Batth with coach Baldwin-Tener.

Here is a look at each position group from the 2015-16 team:

Post Players (the 4 and 5 players):

“I am excited about this group and their potential,” Baldwin-Tener started. “We want them to dominate in rebounding and start their contributions on defense, but they are all capable of scoring, too. We are probably going to be physical and bring some toughness with this group.”

Sophomore Kennesha Nichols started 18 of the last 19 games (not the Senior Day finale) and averaged 8.1 ppg and 6.4 rpg in that span. Nichols shot 55 percent from the field for the season.

Senior Morgan Jackson has played 88 games with 233 points and 179 rebounds to go with five double-figure scoring games. She can step outside to hit the 3-point shot (38). “Morgan Jackson has been a great asset to our program and is a leader by example and effort. She does the right thing. She has improved every year and we look forward to seeing her final season at GSU.”

The newcomers include a trio of junior college transfers in 6-footer Alaysia Mitchell, 6-foot-2 Taleah Williams and 6-foot-3 D’Arcy Draper, along with freshman forward Astaja Tyghter.

“Alaysia Mitchell is a Charles Barkley-type aggressive power player down low,” coach Baldwin-Tener said. “She is a hard driver, boxes out for rebounds and has good, strong post moves to score. Coming back to Atlanta after junior college will serve as more motivation for Mitchell to play before family and friends.

“Taleah Williams brings size and attitude to the post,” coach noted. “She takes up a lot of space to keep the offense off the boards and has good moves to get to the rim on offense.”

“D’Arcy Draper has a year’s experience and has been a nice surprise,” coach said. “She is improving more and more and is a strong team player, vocal and giving everything she has to help the team.”

Senior Morgan Jackson is a career 84 percent free throw shooter over her 88-game GSU career. She has 38 3-point baskets made.

The First Look At The Season

"I am really impressed with freshman Astaja Tyghter," Baldwin-Tener pointed out. "She can do so many things, understands how to play the game and is used to winning. She plays a lot bigger than her 5-foot-10 size might indicate. She has shown she can dribble, pass, shoot inside or outside and go get a rebound, so we're anxious to see her in game conditions. She is a competitor who will make the whole team better with her attitude and effort."

Guards (the 2 and 3 players):

"Obviously, one of the better things this group does as a whole is shoot the ball, stretch a defense, break a zone or drive to the basket," Baldwin-Tener commented.

"I look for a big senior season from Ashlee Cole because she has worked hard on conditioning and being able to play in longer stretches," the coach said. Cole has played 88 games as a reserve with 451 career points and 61 career 3-point baskets. Cole's a good ball handler who could also help at point guard if needed. "She is a scorer inside or out and a driver who can get to the free throw line, too."

Transfer Tatianna Jackson played 66 games in two years at Chattanooga on a pair of NCAA Tournament teams, while earning All-Southern Conference Freshman Team recognition. She had 11 double-figure scoring games. "Tatianna Jackson can do a lot on a basketball court," coach noted. "She provides an offensive weapon who can drive, stop and shoot, dribble, Sophomore forward Kennesha Nichois started 18 of the final 19 games in 2014-15 and shot 55 percent for the season.

Chattanooga transfer Tatianna Jackson was an All-SoCon freshman.

grab rebounds and knows how to win. Having her practice with us last season enables her to be ready now."

Makeba Ponder showed she could shoot the basketball in her freshman 2014-15 season at GSU. She led the Sun Belt in 3-pointers per game (2.5) and tied the GSU record with 69 made. Ponder led the team in scoring (11.3 points) despite playing just the sixth-most minutes on the team. She had six games with 20 or more points, and five games with five or more 3-point baskets. "We saw early on what a great shooter Makeba Ponder is, so she has been working more on her conditioning and overall skills as she continues to develop into a premier player in this league," coach Baldwin-Tener observed.

Freshman K.K. Williams comes from a program that was No. 1 in Tennessee the past two years (66-3 record) and was No. 5 in the nation last year. She played the most minutes on that team and was excellent on defense, while getting more offensive rebounds than defensive boards and doing all the things to help the team win. "K.K. Williams is a versatile player with a long basketball body," coach noted. "She is used to winning with effort, is very active, a good defender and a good shooter."

Freshman Kierra Henry compiled impressive high school numbers in metro Atlanta with 2,106 career points, a 20.1 scoring average as a senior on a 24-5 Pope High School team, 394

steals as a defensive force and 746 rebounds. “Kierra Henry is athletic, active and a dynamic scorer,” Baldwin-Tener said. “She can drive or shoot standing still and has a long frame to play good defense.”

Point Guard

Junior Erica Norwood played two seasons at Furman and showed she could score (22 points vs. High Point, 14 vs. Georgia and 12 vs. Arkansas), while being a good passer and 3-point shooter. Norwood will finish her transfer season after the first semester (the first seven games of 2015-16) and become eligible. “Erica Norwood will bring experienced leadership qualities and had the second semester last year to practice with us and learn our terminology in practices,” Baldwin-Tener noted.

Freshman Madison Newby, a 5-8 point guard, finished a sterling prep career in metro Atlanta on a 29-4 Archer High School team as the Region Player of the Year. Newby set the Gwinnett County assist record with 665 in her career, while scoring 1,538 points herself with 74 double-figure scoring games. Her defense provided an eye-popping 458 steals. “Madison Newby is used to winning because she is determined to win,” Baldwin-Tener observed. “She is the type of person that wants to do whatever it takes for her team to win.”

The Schedule

Georgia State’s 29-game slate includes 20 Sun Belt Conference games and nine non-conference game. The season starts Nov. 13 at Kennesaw State and works its way to the tournament in New Orleans on March 11-14.

The Panthers host their annual Thanksgiving Classic on Nov. 28-29. The team plays at Alabama on Nov. 24 and makes a two-game swing in Florida Dec. 20-21 to face Stetson and Bethune-Cookman.

The Sun Belt season starts in unusual style as GSU plays Dec. 30 at UT Arlington, stays in Texas for New Year’s Eve and then plays at Texas State on Jan. 2.

2015-16 NCAA CHANGES

The NCAA Playing Rules Oversight Panel announced changes in June for the 2015-16 season.

The NCAA Rules that will effect women's basketball include:

- The game is now 4 10-minute quarters instead of 2 20-minutes halves, which is more like professional basketball and international basketball.
- Teams will no longer shoot the one-and-one free throws after six fouls in a half, but instead will shoot two free throws on the fifth foul of each quarter and continue in that quarter.
- In the final 59.9 seconds of a half or overtime, teams may call a timeout and then advance the ball to the 28-foot line in the front court by their bench. It will also be moved to that spot after a timeout on a made basket, rebound, or steal if the player does not dribble or pass the ball. As always, teams shoot at the basket furthest from their bench to start the game, making this second-half rule in front of their bench.
- Teams now have 4 timeouts per half instead of 5. Each team has 3 30-second and 1 60-second timeout per half. If a team doesn't use a time out in the first half, they lose 1 30-second timeout for the second half.
- All told there are now 7 "media" timeouts instead of the previous 8 (at 16-, 12-, 8- and 4-minute marks) and are now one in each quarter and the three breaks between the quarters.
- The 10-second backcourt time will not be re-set if the defense knocks the ball out of bounds in a proper way (i.e. not a kicked ball) or held ball.
- Coaches will no longer be able to call a timeout during live action, only in the non-action times (i.e. after a basket, or stoppage of play).
- Coaches have a maximum 15 seconds to substitute a new player after a foul out of a player.
- The 5-second closely guarded call has been eliminated.
- Media timeouts have been reduced from 75 seconds to 60 seconds.
- Officiating will focus on the rules that encourage freedom of movement in the post area and physical play in the post area. Bench decorum and behavior will be quickly disciplined and enforced.
- The women will continue to use the 30-second shot clock as they always have, while the men's game will move from 35 seconds (since 1993-94) to that 30-second clock this year.
- In an effort to improve fan experience, bands or amplified music may be played during any dead-ball situation in women's basketball.

Georgia State Basketball 2015-16

COACHES

Head Coach Sharon Baldwin-Tener embarks on her sixth season at Georgia State after signing a new three-year contract in 2015-16.

In 2014-15, GSU finished 13-17 overall and eighth in the 11-team Sun Belt (8-12) to earn a tournament seed for a second-straight season. Makeba Ponder was named a Mid-Major All-American (third team). Ponder tied the school record with 69 3-point baskets and the team had the second-most in school history with 164 made. The team had the first 100-point scoring game since 2000.

In 2013-14, the Panthers finished fifth in the 10-team league, defeating seven of the teams. GSU defeated the first-place team on the road, while also claiming a win over the third and fourth-place teams ahead of them.

The Panthers had a five-game league win streak from Jan. 14-29. GSU's inaugural Sun Belt game was a win on New Year's Day over Troy. The season started with the first WNIT preseason tournament appearance in school history, dropping all three to future 20-win teams.

Kendra Long earned third-team All-Sun Belt honors in 2013-14 and was twice the league player-of-the-week winner. She set the school record for 3-point baskets.

In 2012-13, Baldwin-Tener's 13-16 season included a non-conference mark of 8-3 and an overall home record of 10-7. The tough schedule included losses to 12 winning teams, seven in the top 100 RPI. In state, GSU defeated Kennesaw State by 21 points and Georgia Southern by 25 points.

Cody Paulk was named to the CAA All-Defensive Team and shattered school blocked shots records, while also earning all-academic recognition. Kayla Nolan was a CAA Player of the Week and Ashlee Cole a CAA Rookie of the Week.

In a challenging 2011-12 season, Baldwin-Tener worked with five freshmen and finished with 12 players starting a game and 10 players leading the team in scoring in a game as she worked all the newcomers into the program. The team went 6-5 in the non-conference portion of the schedule and fought in a league that ranked seventh among 31 Division I conferences.

Her tenure at ECU followed one season at Mercer. She was the Atlantic Sun Conference Coach of the Year in her only season in Macon.

She first gained notice as NAIA National Coach of the Year at Life. She began that program with a final No. 7 ranking in its first year and produced a team ranked No. 1 in the national polls in her second season (2001).

In her first 12 years as a head coach before coming to GSU, Baldwin-Tener had a 207-161 overall record. Her 126 wins at ECU are a school record.

Her assistant coaching career was highlighted by being named the Naismith National Assistant Coach of the Year (1996) while she was in her sixth year at Georgia under head coach Andy Landers. With her recruiting help, the Bulldogs advanced to the NCAA championship game in 1996 and ended with a final No. 2 ranking. UGA also earned a No. 4 ranking in 1995 and a No. 6 ranking in 1997. Georgia's 1993 recruiting class was ranked No. 1 in the country and the 1997 class was No. 2. Her recruits included All-Americans Rachel Powell, Kedra Holland-Corn, as well as the WNBA-bound twins Coco and Kelly Miller (both went on to play with the Atlanta Dream).

As a collegiate player, Baldwin-Tener played her first two seasons near her home at Kennesaw State, where she was as an all-conference player with 831 points in two years. As a student, she transferred to Georgia for her final two seasons under coach Landers and was a starting guard and team captain her senior campaign. The Bulldogs finished No. 7, with five wins over top 20 teams, including a nationally televised win over No. 3 Tennessee. Baldwin led the team in free throw percentage (79%). As a junior, her team was 23-7 and No. 10 in the final AP poll.

Baldwin-Tener arrived at East Carolina in 2002 with solid credentials and the reputation of a program-builder. When she arrived at ECU, they were coming off a 6-21 season in 2001-02. In her eight years with the Lady Pirate program, she exceeded expectations. Given the task of resurrecting a program that had 18 winning seasons in its first 23 years from 1969-1992, she quickly left her mark and molded ECU into a championship contender.

What Baldwin-Tener did after accepting the ECU position was clear not only in the community, but also around the country. The squad's RPI rating improved nearly 150 spots and attendance quadrupled. In 2009-10, her team finished No. 83 among the 345 Division I colleges in the RPI ranking system used by the NCAA.

In 2008-09, East Carolina led Conference USA in attendance, drawing an average of 1,602 fans per contest and upped that with 1,935 in 2009-10.

Baldwin-Tener's building process really showed in 2007 as East Carolina accomplished another first – a Conference USA Tournament title. For the first time since 1982, the Lady Pirates were represented in the NCAA Tournament field of 64. After sending home SMU in the C-USA quarterfinals and edging UAB in the semifinals, the Lady Pirates beat Rice to win the championship game.

Prior to her appointment at East Carolina, Baldwin-Tener served one season as head coach at Mercer in Macon, Ga. She took over a program that won only six games a season prior and led the Bears to a 16-13 record and berth in the semifinals of the Atlantic Sun Tournament. The 10-game improvement represented one of the biggest turnarounds in Division I that season.

Baldwin-Tener's aforementioned penchant for being a program-maker rang true in the three years she spent at Life University. She literally built the program from the ground up as the NAIA-affiliated university did not sponsor women's basketball until her arrival. In two seasons of competition, the Lady Eagles compiled a stellar record of 53-14. In the program's first season (1999-2000), Baldwin-Tener led Life to a 22-11 mark as the Lady Eagles advanced to the NAIA Sweet Sixteen. In year two, Life's Lady Eagles put together a remarkable 31-3 record, including a 19-game winning streak, and advanced to the Elite Eight of the national tournament. Life ended the season as the No. 1 team in the final NAIA national poll. Baldwin-Tener added more hardware to her resume that season as she was named the WBCA NAIA National Coach of the Year and earned her second-straight Naismith Georgia NAIA Division III Coach-of-the-Year honor.

Baldwin-Tener enjoyed a successful playing career at both the high school and collegiate levels. At Wills High School (merged with Campbell High School) in Smyrna, Ga., she averaged 21 points per contest as a senior and was named the 1985 Georgia Class 4A State Player of the Year. The top male player at Wills when she was there was Brian Oliver, who went on to Georgia Tech to play on its 1990 Final Four team.

In Smyrna, Baldwin was in classes at Griffin Middle School with actress Julia Roberts. Out of high school, Baldwin-Tener signed with Kennesaw State and played two seasons before transferring to Georgia. At Kennesaw, she was an all-district and all-conference selection, averaging 18 points per game as a freshman before upping that mark to 20 as a sophomore.

Baldwin-Tener earned a bachelor's degree in education from Georgia in 1991 and completed her master's of education in 1997, also at Georgia.

She and her husband, Matt, have two children: Luke (11, Feb. 4, 2004) and Samantha (10, Oct. 28, 2005) and reside in Marietta, Ga.

Erin Bath

2nd Year at GSU

12th Year in Women's Basketball

Veteran center Brittany Logan ranked No. 4 in the Sun Belt in rebounding (8.0), while averaging 10.7 points per game. Sophomore forward Haley Gerrin showed continued improvement in starting 20 games.

Bath has a strong influence in recruiting and will develop a pair of JUCO transfers into the rotation in 2015-16 for the Panthers.

With a true "been there, done that" resume as a player and coach, Erin Bath can provide plenty of helpful guidance to the student-athletes and valuable input in the recruiting and game-planning for the staff.

Pulled down 185 rebounds (3.9) with 91 on the offensive end and 94 on the defensive end...Top game of 10 rebounds with two games with nine and five games with seven boards.

Topped 70 percent free throw shooting both years...Has 18 blocked shots with top game with three rejections.

Had second-most starts on team (20) and played in 28 of the 30 games, while playing 479 minutes...Scored eight points in a game three times, going 4 of 4, 4 of 5 and 4 of 7 from the field in those three games.

Third on team in rebounding with 104 (3.7) and had 12 games with five or more rebounds...Had four games with seven rebounds.

Blocked three shots in game vs. UL Lafayette (Jan. 24) and had 10 blocked shots for season.

2013-14

Perhaps the only thing that kept Haley Gerrin from competing for Sun Belt Freshman of the Year was a lifelong back injury that eventually required surgery during the season.

Amazingly, Gerrin tried to tough it out and showed some of the potential that will make her a key contributor in the future at GSU...Season stats are misleading, based on limited playing time.

Played 20 games, missing the last eight following surgery...Earned 11 starting assignments...Logged just 364 minutes of the possible 1,245 in the 31-game season (29 percent).

Scored 142 points (7.1 ppg) despite nine games with less than 15 minutes playing time when hurting...Grabbed 81 rebounds (4.1 rpg).

Led Sun Belt in field-goal percentage for season at 53.5 on 54 of 101 shooting, with top 72.7 percent game of 8 of 11 vs. Jacksonville State (Nov. 29).

Solid free-throw shooter with 70.8 percent from the line on 34 of 48...Was 5 of 5 from line vs. UL Lafayette (Jan. 23) and 4 of 4 at San Jose State (Dec. 18).

Scored 23 points and grabbed nine rebounds in 24 minutes in a 65-63 win over Jacksonville State (Nov. 29) for first collegiate double-figure game. Hit 8 of 11 shots from field.

That was first of her six double-figure scoring games...Had first double-double game with 13 points, 10 rebounds at UL Lafayette (Jan. 23).

Played key role in Georgia State win in its first Sun Belt game, scoring 17 points (7 of 12 shooting), grabbing nine rebounds and blocking two shots vs. Troy (Jan. 1).

Scored 15 points at Santa Clara (Dec. 20) and had 14 points with seven rebounds at Kennesaw State (Dec. 3)...Added 10 points at San Jose State (Dec. 18).

PREP

One of the 20 players named to the all-state team in Georgia, playing in the largest AAAAAA class in the toughest region in the state (two teams made the semifinal round of four).

Utilized her 6-foot-2 size to score 1,567 points and set the Habersham Central school scoring record, while leading the team to its most wins in a four-year period (65).

Habersham Central High School coach John Hood said Gerrin had received as many as 30 inquiries from college recruiters after leading her team in both scoring and rebounding all four seasons.

Was first-team all-region as a senior in Atlanta north metro area that sent the two teams into the state championship game (Norcross and North Gwinnett).

Habersham had a school-record 23-wins, sparked by Gerrin, who led the Raiders to

PROGRAM TRADITION

Georgia State had a four-year run with postseason bids to start this century.

The Panthers earned their first WNIT bid in the 1999-2000 season to set the table.

Then, GSU earned three consecutive NCAA bids after winning three straight conference tournaments.

The 2000-01 team (upper left) started the NCAA run with a 24-7 mark.

Next, the 2001-02 team (center) was able to repeat after its 21-10 season.

The 2002-03 squad (below) kept the run alive with a 20-win season to make it a three-peat of conference titles.

Georgia State produced eight-straight winning seasons from 1997-98 through the 2004-05 season.

GSU Women's Basketball Timeline

1975-76 - Georgia State starts women's basketball player with first scholarship given to Anna Dunn (below), who also played for GSU volleyball team. Note the GSU was on the jerseys of the first women's team.

Rankin Cooter, already a professor at Georgia State, is the program's first head coach. The team is called the same nickname as men (Panthers). Women's sports are begun in cross country, tennis and volleyball, along with basketball. Most of the basketball team also played volleyball for the Panthers.

Nov. 28, 1975 - The first GSU game is played on Nov. 28, 1975 at Alexander Coliseum as Georgia State crushes host Georgia Tech 80-30. GSU is playing as an independent, not in any league, in the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women, as there was no NCAA affiliation for women at that time.

Feb. 6, 1976 - GSU scores 100 points for first time, topping Tift 103-57 in the Sports Arena in just the 13th game in school history. Two games later, Georgia State does it again, topping Georgia Tech 101-40.

First Season - The inaugural season ended with a 12-4 record. Georgia State defeated Florida, North Carolina and Georgia Tech (twice) while losing at Auburn, among the major schools played.

Second Season, 1976-77 - Georgia State Panthers join Georgia Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (GAIW) as one of seven members: Georgia Bulldogs, Georgia Tech Jackettes, Georgia Southern Lady Eagles, Mercer Teddy Bears, Albany State Ramettes and Valdosta State Lady Blazers.

1976 - GSU plays Georgia for the first time and it comes in the 10th game of the season in Athens as GSU defeats UGA 65-63. Georgia State swept the season series with UGA by winning 53-52 later in the Sports Arena. Georgia State also won at Clemson and over Auburn in the Sports Arena.

1st Tournament - GSU drew Albany State in the first GAIW Tournament, but loses 78-69 to end the second season at 14-10.

1978-79 - GSU played home games at The Omni as did the men, who played in the Sun Belt Conference. The Sun Belt members gathered Feb. 8-10 in Charlotte for round-robin games as GSU played New Orleans, Charlotte and South Florida in those three days. GSU also played UAB twice earlier in the season. This fourth straight winning season saw a high of 18 wins in the 24 games. GSU beat Auburn (twice), North Carolina, Georgia (twice), Florida and Alabama.

1st Record-Breaker /Pro Draftee-Joyce Harrell (below) joined the program from McEachern High School in GSU's second year and graduated in 1980 as the program's first 1,000-point scorer (1,210) and first to make 1,000 rebounds (1,051). Harrell was drafted in 1980 by the Minnesota Fillies of the Women's Professional Basketball League, but opted not to sign.

GSU Women's Basketball Timeline

1st All-American/Biggest Star - Terese Allen (below) is still the program's all-time scorer after 2,074 points from 1977-81 (career 19.4 average). Her 23.4 season in 1980-81 is still the school record. Allen was the Region III Player of the Year and an All-America honorable mention honoree. She was inducted in GSU's first Athletics Hall of Fame class in 2015.

1st PostSeason Tournament -

The 1980-81 team was ranked in the top 20 in the nation and may be the best in school history. The Panthers received a first-round bye in the AIAW Region III and defeated Mississippi College, UAB and Jackson State in the Valdosta, Ga. event to advance to the 24-team AIAW National Tournament (later to become the NCAA Tournament). GSU would lose to N. C. State in the first round in Raleigh, while the Jackson State team GSU beat in the Region also got a bid and then defeated Minnesota in the AIAW National Tournament.

17 Straight Wins - The 1980-81 team reeled off 17 straight wins from Jan. 5 (73-52 over Georgia Tech) through Feb. 20 (86-82 Valdosta State). One of those was also a 66-63 win over Georgia on Jan. 26 in The Omni.

50-Point Game - On Feb. 18, 1983, senior Sheryl Martin (above right) scored a record 52 points in GSU's 88-73 win over Stetson in the Sports Arena. The Southern Cal transfer had just set the school record with a 45-point scoring game 11 days earlier on Feb. 7 in a 69-64 win over Georgia Tech in the Sports Arena. Martin followed her 45-point night two days later with a 39-point barrage at UAB in an overtime loss. Those three games are three of the top four in GSU history as only a 40-point night by Angela Gresham in 1987 is in that stratosphere.

New Conference - In 1985-86, Georgia State joined the New South Women's Athletic Conference (NSWAC). The six teams included Central Florida (UCF), Florida A&M, Georgia Southern, Mercer and Stetson, along with GSU. The 15-12 Panthers finished second. The tournament was held in Tallahassee, Fla. 2015 PROFESSIONAL PANTHER ATHLETES

Georgia State has seen multiple student-athletes go on to compete in professional sports over the past few years, to include the NFL, NBA, MLB, LPGA, AVP and MLS. Here is a sampling of those who were involved during the 2014-15 seasons. Many others are trying to work their way up by competing in professional leagues in soccer, golf and tennis.

Albert Wilson began the 2015 season as a starting receiver for the Kansas City Chiefs. He played in 12 games as a rookie in 2014, starting his first game and making his first NFL catch.

R. J. Hunter was drafted by the Boston Celtics in the first round (28th overall) of the 2015 NBA draft in June. He competed in the Celtics summer league and reported to NBA training camp in September.

David Buchanan has been the starting pitcher in 35 games during the 2014 and 2015 seasons with the Philadelphia Phillies in the National League. He pitched 7 1/3 innings on Aug. 1 in picking up a win over the Atlanta Braves at Turner Field.

Joanna Klatten has played on the LPGA Tour in 2014 and 2015, picking up earnings of more than $140,000. She was the opening round leader at Kingsmill, Va. with a six-under 65.

Lane Carico burst onto the beach volleyball scene as AVP Newcomer of the Year in 2013. She also plays internationally with FIVB. Carico's goal is to make the 2016 Olympic Team.

Christo Bilukidi begins his fifth NFL season in 2015, playing with the Baltimore Ravens. He was a seventh-round draft pick of the Oakland Raiders.

Michael Nwilo was a 2014 fourth-round draft pick (59th overall) of Chivas USA in Major League Soccer.

Offensive tackle Ulrick John was a sixth-round NFL draft pick in 2014 of the Indianapolis Colts. A broken leg put him on the I.R. List that season as he returned to summer camp in 2015.

Distance runner Rachel Hannah has been competing professionally with her Canadian team (in the Pan-American games above) with a goal of making the 2016 Olympics.

Former soccer player Tiffany Blackmon turned a TV station career into a national career in signing with The NFL Network in 2015 to cover professional football.

GSU PRESIDENT

MARK P. BECKER

SINCE BEGINNING HIS TENURE as Georgia State University's seventh president in January 2009, President Mark P. Becker has provided a vision for the future of Georgia State University and led the institution into a period of marked growth and advancement.

Reflecting his vision of the urban public research university for the 21st century, the university adopted a dynamic 10-year strategic plan that has Georgia State well on its way to becoming one of the nation's premier urban research universities.

As a first generation college student who began his educational career at a community college, Becker is personally and professionally committed to ensuring that students of all economic backgrounds succeed and are given opportunities to compete on a level playing field. Under his leadership, Georgia State's graduation rate has already increased by 10 percent, and the university is becoming a national model for undergraduate education. It leads the nation in eliminating disparities in graduation rates based on race or ethnicity, and, as one of the most diverse universities in America, is first in the nation among non-profit institutions in graduating African-American students.

By promoting the achievements of the university, making it more visible locally and nationally, and demonstrating the value of a Georgia State degree, the university under Becker's leadership has set a series of university records for enrollment, graduation rates and total graduates. Becker has also placed high priority on ensuring financial support for students, and as a result need- and merit-based scholarship funds distributed by the university have tripled since his arrival.

Becker's passion for student success has been matched by his commitment to increasing multidisciplinary research and economic development as facilitated by the creation of new research centers, the Second Century Initiative—an ambitious program to hire one-hundred senior faculty members to serve in interdisciplinary research clusters, and an enhanced emphasis on the translation of faculty research into products and companies. This commitment has brought the university to new heights of research accomplishment, as reflected, for example, in new university records for sponsored research funding and federal research funding.

Being globally connected and engaged is another important component of Becker's vision for the modern research university. Seeking to position Georgia State faculty and students to thrive in an increasingly complex and global landscape, Becker has worked with faculty leaders and international partners to enhance Georgia State's global profile. In 2010 the university partnered with Beijing Language and Culture University to establish a Confucius Institute with an emphasis on business and commerce. In 2012 the institute was named a "2012 Confucius Institute of the Year."

Becker is particularly committed to developing strong partnerships with universities in rapidly growing economies. As a result, the university is working to strengthen relationships with counterparts in Brazil, China, South Africa, South Korea and Turkey. These partners are the basis for the development of new student and faculty exchanges, study abroad programs, research collaborations, executive training initiatives, government and private sector networks, and dual-degree programs.

Becker has aggressively advanced the campus' physical development and revitalization of downtown Atlanta. This has included major additions to campus housing and dining, research and academic facilities, as well as intramural and athletics facilities. In 2010 the university added football to its athletics program, and in 2013 added sand volleyball and moved to the Sun Belt Conference to advance into the Division I – FBS level of NCAA competition.

Throughout his career Becker has served on boards and committees of civic, government and professional bodies. He serves, for example, on the boards of the Coalition of Urban Serving Universities, World Affairs Council of Atlanta, Georgia Chamber of Commerce, Georgia Aquarium, Georgia Research Alliance, Woodruff Arts Center, and the Atlanta Committee for Progress. He also serves on the executive committees of the Metro Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, Atlanta Regional Council for Higher Education (Chair) and Central Atlanta Progress.

Trained as a statistician, Becker has had a distinguished career in biostatistics and public health sciences. For most of his professorial career he was a member of the faculty in the Department of Biostatistics at the University of Michigan, where he also held appointments in the Institute for Social Research, and the Department of Statistics. He was made a Fellow of the American Statistical Association, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Becker has been principal investigator on research grants from the National Institutes of Health and the National Science Foundation. He has published extensively in leading journals, and his doctoral students have gone on to successful careers in leading higher education institutions and with multinational companies. Becker served on multiple editorial boards, was co-editor of Sociological Methodology, and was a guest editor for Sociological Methods and Research and for the Journal of the American Statistical Association.

Prior to his appointment as president of Georgia State, Becker was executive vice president for academic affairs and provost at the University of South Carolina and dean of the School of Public Health and assistant vice president of Public Health Preparedness and Emergency Response at the University of Minnesota. From 1989 to 2000, Becker was a professor in the University of Michigan's School of Public Health, where he also was associate dean for academic affairs. He has held academic appointments at the University of Washington, the University of Florida and Cornell University.

Becker attended Harford (Md.) Community College, earned his bachelor's degree in mathematics from Towson State University in 1980 and his Ph.D. degree in statistics from the Pennsylvania State University in 1985. Becker grew up in Havre de Grace, Md., near Baltimore. He and his wife, Laura Voisinot, have two adult children, Matthew and Julia.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

CHARLIE COBB

GEORGIA STATE UNIVERSITY President Mark P. Becker ushered in a new era of Panther Athletics when he named veteran athletic administrator and “proven program builder” Charlie Cobb as Director of Athletics on Aug. 15, 2014.

At Cobb’s introductory press conference, Becker noted the need for Georgia State to find a proven winner, someone who has built a winning -program “the right way.” Becker said Cobb even took it a step further.

“In fact, we got a bonus in this package. Not only is he a proven builder and proven winner with a track record of doing it in the right way, but he also has tremendous Atlanta roots,” Becker said. “He knows this community well, has worked in this city, knows what we are doing and the potential we have in this program.”

Cobb returned to Atlanta at the perfect time with several significant athletic building projects in the works. Already being constructed is a weight room at the football practice facility, while a new basketball and volleyball practice facility are scheduled for this fall. Also on the list is a dedicated academic performance center; and the University’s concept for redeveloping Turner Field into a mixed-use area inclusive of sporting venues.

Before returning to Atlanta, Cobb spent nine years as the Director of Athletics at Appalachian State.

Previously he worked for six years honing his business acumen with the Atlanta Sports Council, the Chick-Fil-A Peach Bowl and the Georgia Dome, before his first venture into college athletics as an administrator at his alma mater NC State.

Cobb has led successful programs by focusing on four pillars of his leadership philosophy:

- 1) relationships matter
- 2) achieve success
- 3) be innovative
- 4) create traditions

Those ideals helped him build and maintain a high-performing program at App State. The Mountaineers won three consecutive Football Championship Subdivision (FCS) national championships, the first three-peat in FCS history. They also brought home eight consecutive Commissioner’s Cup championships (top men’s sports program in the Southern Conference) and four Germann Cup championships (top women’s program). Together, they earned the men’s and women’s awards in the same academic year four times.

At App State, Cobb helped create $50 million in facilities improvements as the Mountaineers’ fundraising efforts that reached all-time highs, including surpassing the $3 million mark. The jewel of the construction projects was the seven-story Appalachian Athletics Center and the campaign also produced new homes for Mountaineer baseball, softball and soccer, as well as a new indoor practice facility.

The 47-year-old Cobb was a four-year letterwinner as a football player at NC State. He graduated with honors with a bachelor’s degree in business administration in 1990 and earned a master’s degree in sports administration from Ohio in 1992. As a senior center, he was named to the All-ACC second team and was an All-ACC academic selection.

Cobb and his wife, Lindsay, have a son and daughter, 17-year-old Harrison and 14-year-old Branan. Lindsay Cobb was an All-ACC goalkeeper for the NC State women’s soccer team from 1988-90.

YEAR TWO FOR GSU IN SUN BELT

Georgia State qualified for the Sun Belt Championship for a second straight year in its new conference, claiming the eighth and final seed. Despite continuing line-up changes, the Panthers ranked high in multiple categories.

On a roster where 15 players participated, not a single one started all 30 games. As a matter of fact, the most games started were 25 and 20. Eight players started 10 or more games and 11 players started two or more games. Not a single player averaged 30 minutes a game played.

While GSU had five seniors, nine players were underclassmen. The team has two transfers eligible to play in 2015-16 after sitting out 2014-15, while four freshmen signed NLI's last November and four JUCO player were added.

The schedule saw 19 games with teams with RPIs of 199 or lower and 11 with an RPI of 200 or higher among the 349 Division I schools. GSU had three games against No. 31 RPI and league champ UALR, a team that went on to win an NCAA game and lose in the second round.

The Sun Belt had a conference RPI strength of 13 among the 32 leagues. UALR (29-4) got the NCAA bid, while Arkansas State got a WNIT bid and won a game (24-11) and three teams played in the postseason WBI: UL Lafayette, 23-12, Troy, 20-11, along with 17-15 Texas State. Seven of the other 10 Sun Belt schools ranked in the top half of the RPI (175), with two in the top 50 (UALR 31 and Arkansas State 45). Liberty (No. 63 RPI) won the GSU Thanksgiving Tournament with a 73-71 win over the Panthers and went on to earn an NCAA bid and finish 26-7. The Panthers played five games against the two Sun Belt teams ranked in the top 10 in the nation in fewest points allowed.

Georgia State played up-tempo, putting up 70 or more points in 15 games, while finishing fourth in scoring (67.1). GSU made 164 3-points baskets, the second-most in school history, and tied for second in the Sun Belt (5.5 per game). Three individuals led the Sun Belt in a category: Makeba Ponder (3-point baskets per game), Alisha Andrews (assist turnover ratio) and Brittany Logan (field goal percentage).

SCHEDULE RPI OF 2014-15 SEASON

- The Sun Belt was 13th of the 31 Division I leagues. Five Sun Belt schools were in the top 150, with a pair in the top 50. Seven were in the top half (175 RPI).
- GSU lost six games to teams that were ranked in the top 65 RPI
- GSU played 13 games against teams with RPI ratings from 100-199 (4-9 record).
- 17 of the 30 games played were against teams in the top half of the RPI of the 349 schools
- The Panthers were 8-2 against teams from 200-349 in the RPI ratings

Georgia State freshman Makeba Ponder was named a Third-Team Division I Mid-Major Freshman All-American by FullCourt.com.

Ponder, who led Georgia State in scoring and the Sun Belt Conference in 3-point baskets made per game, is one of the 15 freshmen honored by FullCourt.com-Inside Women's Basketball, the longest running provider of women's basketball coverage on the web.

The guard from Moultrie, Ga. (Colquitt County High School) made 69 3-point baskets (2.5 per game) to rank first in the Sun Belt and No. 61 in the NCAA. The sharpshooter hit 40.5 percent to rank No. 2 in the Sun Belt and No. 34 in the NCAA. That 40.5 led all freshmen players in the country. An outside scorer, Ponder made 7 of 9 3-point baskets to tie for the second-most made in a game in GSU history. She had five games with 5-or-more 3-point baskets made.

She averaged 11.3 points per game, while shooting 76.4 percent from the free throw line. Her 69 3-point baskets made this season tied the Georgia State single-season record.

GEORGIA STATE PANTHERS

Game 4: Nov. 30, 2014, 3 p.m.

LIBERTY 73, GEORGIA STATE 71

GSU Sports Arena • Atlanta, Ga.

Despite three Panthers in double-digits, the Georgia State women's basketball team came up short in the Thanksgiving Tournament championship game, bowing 73-71 to the Liberty Lady Flames. It was GSU's first loss of the season as the Panthers sit at 3-1. Liberty improves to 4-2 after its pair of wins in Atlanta.

Tied at 68, Liberty's Karly Buer made a layup with 1:52 to put the Lady Flames on top for good. Buer was selected as the tournament MVP after her 15-point, five-rebound, three-steal game.

Georgia State shot 38 percent from behind the arc, making 10 of 28 3-point attempts. Alicia Andrews scored 13 points, made six assists and had three steals to lead GSU. Kayla Nolan added 13 more points, while Ashlee Cole scored 12 points off the bench.

Liberty held a decisive 46-24 rebound advantage, but GSU used 22 forced turnovers and 10 steals to offset that. Liberty got 13 rebounds and nine points from 6-foot-4 Ashley Rininger.

Host Georgia State led early and built a five-point lead through the first 10 minutes of the game at 20-15 with 9:30 on the first-half clock. A Buer basket for Liberty gave the Lady Flames the lead a 23-22 with 6:23. Liberty took a 35-31 lead into halftime after seven lead changes.

Wjem Sadalia Ellis hit a trey to break a 35-tie at 17:47. Liberty got the lead it would maintain from one to five points for most of the second half. Just when it looked like Liberty might finally gain an advantage at 5:01 with a 66-59 lead, Georgia State mounted a comeback with a 9-2 run to tie the game again at 68 at 2:40.

After Buer's basket gave Liberty the lead 70-68 and 1:52, Georgia State missed several chances for the tie or lead.

The game ended fittingly for Liberty with an offensive rebound. With 2.5 second, Ellis missed two free throws with GSU poised to try for a tie or the lead in those closing seconds. But Rininger grabbed the offensive rebound and the game ended.

MOREHEAD STATE 74, GEORGIA STATE 72

Johnson Arena • Morehead, Ky.

Georgia State dropped a 74-72 decision to Morehead State Sunday at Johnson Arena.

The Panthers fell behind early at 15-2 by missing its first 11 shots of the game. But, GSU closed back to 27-23 at halftime and then came out and gained the lead at 33-29 four minutes into the second half.

Host Morehead (4-5) regained a double-digit lead at 60-49, but Georgia State kept chipping away and had it to six at 3:45. Morehead got 10 consecutive free throws from Almesha Jones to secure its win.

Georgia State (3-3) saw plenty of positives today.

- One was a 43-32 rebounding advantage, sparked by 18 of fensive rebounds
- Another was freshman Makeba Ponder making 7 of 9 3-point shots in the second half.
- Yet another was 10 assists and 10 points from point guard Ashley Watson, who was filling in for Alisha Andrews today (coach's decision).
- GSU made 9 of 18 treys thanks to Ponder.

Ponder's 21 points led Georgia State, with Kayla Nolan adding 16 points to go with seven rebounds and Watson providing her 10 points. Logan's 14 rebounds led the defense.

Morehead's margin of victory came as a result of 19 of 23 from the free throw line, with Jones making 12 of 14, including the last 10 in a row for a 26-points (24 in the second half). Shay Steele added 17 points and Eriel McKee 14 more.

"We played together and we fought hard today, but we simply couldn't hit shots," head coach Sharon Baldwin-Tener said. "It is tough to lose close games, but we're going to have a good season and we'll be back better as a result of today. We did some good things, like rebounding and hitting the offensive boards. Ponder can really shoot and Watson made things happen at the point today with her 10 assists. A loss is always tough but I can be proud of the team's fight and effort today."

Despite shooting 21.9 percent in the first half (7 of 32), GSU responded by shooting 53.1 percent in the second half (17 of 32).

GSU Sports Arena • Atlanta, Ga.

Thanks to a career high 19 points, plus 16 rebounds and three blocks from senior Brittany Logan, the Georgia State women's basketball team defeated Tennessee Tech 72-60.

Georgia State's defense was a factor as the Panthers held TTU to 29.4 percent from the field (20 of 68), forced 15 turnovers and made nine steals, while owning a 43-38 rebound advantage. GSU limited TTU (1-7) to 24.2 percent in the first half in building a 27-17 halftime lead.

Early in the game, Georgia State grew a 8-7 lead eight minutes into the game into a 20-9 lead with a 12-2 run over a five-minute span as TTU made just 3 of 15 field goals. Logan had the final five points of that run.

In the second half, GSU (4-3) grew a 33-24 lead at 16:10 into a 15-point, 39-24 margin at 13:46. The host Panthers would grow that lead into an 18-point lead at 50-32 with 8:39 left. The Panthers led by 17 at 64-47 with 3:30 to play. The host Panthers shot 55 percent in the second half (11 of 20).

Georgia State's key stats for the day included:

- GSU Improving to 4-0 this year when holding the opponent to 60 points or less.

Game 8: Dec. 19, 2014, 5 p.m.

GEORGIA STATE 71, UMASS 66

GSU Sports Arena • Atlanta, Ga.

In her first collegiate start, freshman Makeba Ponder recorded 17 points, including two clutch free throws with 9.4 seconds remaining, in the Georgia State women's basketball team's 71-66 win over UMass (5-5) in the Holiday & Hoops Classic at the GSU Sports Arena. Ohio topped La Salle, 74-63 in the second game.

Center Brittany Logan added 16 points and 11 rebounds and Kayla Nolan finished with 17 points, six rebounds and three steals. The Panthers either held a lead, or were tied, for all but 32 seconds of Friday's game.

GSU (5-3) finished with nine three-pointers, just two shy of the school record, but a third time this season with nine or more made. Ponder made 5 of 9 to pace that category.

Georgia State held a 43-31 rebound advantage, getting a final key stops late in the game from Haley Gerrin.

The host Panthers led by 11 points at 35-24 in the first half, but UMass closed to 35-31 with a 7-0 run to end the first half.

In the second half, GSU continued to lead but could never get the margin above five points, including 56-51 at 9:21. A three-pointer by the Minutewomen's Cierra Dillard tied the game at 59 with 3:56. Logan answered for GSU at 3:25 for a 61-59 lead, then Dillard again nailed a trey at 3:00 to give the Minutemen the lead at 62-61.

The calm freshman Ponder then swished another 3-pointer to provide GSU a 64-62 lead at 2:45 and Logan scored to make it five points again at 67-62 with 1:10. But, UMass' Rashida Timbilla scored inside at 53.9 seconds. When GSU turned the ball over Timbilla followed a miss to make it 67-66 with 27.2 seconds. But, she missed a tying free throw.

After a UMass turnover with 10.2 seconds, Ponder was fouled and hit her two free throws with 9.4 seconds. Nolan added a final pair of free throws with four seconds.

Coach Sharon Baldwin-Tener was glad to win a close game after a pair of two-point losses in the 5-3 season. "I was proud of the team to hang tough and be able to win this tight game because it was a total team effort with a lot of people making a lot of key plays."

Game 9: Dec. 20, 2014, 6 p.m.

LA SALLE 76, GEORGIA STATE 68

GSU Sports Arena • Atlanta, Ga.

In a game with nine lead changes and seven tie scores, La Salle had the final rally to claim a 76-68 win over Georgia State in Saturday's Holiday & Hoops finale at the GSU Sports Arena.

Georgia State (5-4) led from 16:30 to play at 44-42 and were still up 60-56 with six minutes to go. But, La Salle had one last rally and tied the game at 63 with 4:17 to go. The Explorers (7-4) made six of the final eight shots of the game and 9 of 10 free throws to claim the victory.

Freshman Makeba Ponder had a career-best 22 points in 28 minutes in her second career start, while senior center Brittany Logan dominated with 20 points and 11 rebounds.

La Salle got 20 points from forward Michahya Owens and 12 points off the bench from post player Indigo Dickens.

Visiting La Salle started strong, breaking from a 10-10 tie at 15:00 with a 13-2 run to make it 23-12 at 11:47. The Explorers hit 8 of their first 13 shots and four of their first five 3-point shots, while not committing a turnover. La Salle led by 11 points three more times, the last at 37-26 with 6:19 in the half when host Georgia State went on a 12-1 run to finish the half and tie the game at 38 at halftime.

The game was tied twice early in the second half, the last at 42 at 16:50, when GSU gained the lead for the next 10-plus minutes.

The battle of the boards went Georgia State's way in the first half (23-16) but La Salle gained an advantage in the second half with a 25-14 board lead that included 10 offensive rebounds to finish with a 41-37 rebound advantage.

"We started missing shots at the wrong time," coach Sharon Baldwin-Tener said. "La Salle played well and started the game on fire but we got more aggressive and fought back and got control. Our defense was not as good today and we have to rely on good defense to win. I'm learning that this team won't quite and will keep fighting back. We've played a lot of close games and give pretty good effort and compete to the end."

The defense coach Baldwin-Tener spoke of was averaging almost 10 steals a game, but had just one steal tonight and forced just nine turnovers, season lows.

GEORGIA STATE PANTHERS

Game 10: Dec. 30, 2014, 5 p.m.

GEORGIA STATE 80, UL MONROE 72

GSU Sports Arena • Atlanta, Ga.

With four players scoring in double figures, Georgia State produced a 80-72 win over the University of Louisiana at Monroe Tuesday evening in the GSU Sports Arena.

The Sun Belt opener included 12 lead changes and seven ties. Georgia State's advantages were a 49-33 rebound lead with 22 offensive rebounds and hitting 82.8 percent of its free throws (24 of 29). ULM countered with 10 of 24 3-point baskets to keep the game within reach.

Senior six-foot-four center Brittany Logan had a fourth consecutive double-double game with 16 rebounds and 15 points. Freshman guard Makeba Ponder led with 20 points and four 3-point baskets. Senior guard Kayla Nolan produced a double-double with 11 rebounds and 10 points. Senior guard Ashley Watson added 11 points with 9 of 10 free throws.

Leading 39-36 at halftime, host GSU (6-4, 1-0) built a double-digit lead of 53-43 at 15:18 and were up by 12 points at 58-46 with 14:17 as it looked like the Panthers might pull away. But, ULM (4-6, 0-1) went on a 10-0 run with a pair of treys and it was back to 58-56 with 8:30.

GSU came back to make it 65-56 at 6:54 and were cruising at 67-60 with just 4:23. Once again, ULM surged back as Logan fouled out at 2:04 and it was a 71-70 game at 1:28 after ULM's 10th 3-pointer. Ashley Watson's two free throws at 1:01 made it 73-70 and a ULM turnover led to two more free throws by Alisha Andrews at 47.6 to up it to 75-70 as the Panthers headed for the win.

GSU has won three of its last four games and won its conference opener for a second-straight season. The Panthers are second in the Sun Belt in scoring (73 ppg) and have topped 70 in seven of the 10 game.

Logan had a fifth-straight double-figure rebound game and a fourth consecutive double-double to up her season averages to double-double status. Her 16 rebounds were her second with that total this year, one shy of her two games with 17 rebounds last year. Ponder has scored 96 points in her last five games, with three games of 20 or more points in that span.

UALR 75, GEORGIA STATE 55

GSU Sports Arena • Atlanta, Ga.

Shooting 57.7 percent in the first half and 54.7 percent for the game, UALR rolled to a 75-55 win over Georgia State. Junior guard Alexius Dawn was the main sparkplug with a career-high 21 points on 8 of 11 field goals that included 5 of 8 3-point baskets, while making six assists. Preseason Sun Belt Player of the Year Taylor Gault added 21 points as well. UALR (9-2, 2-0), sitting at No. 38 in RPI, took advantage of Georgia State's foul trouble to also post a 34-29 rebound advantage.

Host Georgia State (6-5, 1-1) shot just 19 of 54 field goals (35.2%) and made just 3 of 15 3-point shots.

The Panthers had been riding the crest of 6-foot-4 center Brittany Logan's four consecutive double-doubles and six consecutive double-figure rebounding games to win three of its last four games. Today, she was whistled with two offensive fouls without the ball before four minutes had been played and spent the rest of the half on the bench. When Logan returned in the second half, she scored six quick points and grabbed three rebounds in five minutes before getting the third foul. Once again, she exited to the bench. When she returned for another minute, she was whistled for her third offensive foul without the ball and fourth overall, then drew a technical foul for her fifth foul and her day was over in less than 11 minutes.

UALR started the game making all six of its first shots in building a 13-4 lead at 15:12. The smallest player on the court, 4-foot-11 Andrews hit a three-point basket and another jumper to help GSU back to a 17-17 tie at 10:45.

When freshman Kennesha Nichols scored at 9:01, that basket gave Georgia State its only lead of the game at 19-17. A pair of treys from UALR's Dawn ignited a run that saw the Trojans finish the half on a 22-7 over the last nine minutes. During that stretch, GSU had a technical foul called on Coach Baldwin-Tener as well. UALR shot 15 of 26 field goals in that first half, while GSU was just 9 of 30.

In the second half, the Panthers closed to 41-30 at 18:55 and were down 12 points at 59-47 at 9:03 and Andrews' trey was off the rim that could have cut it to nine points. About a minute later, Logan got her technical and fifth foul and UALR re-built the margin to 22 points at 69-47 at the 7-minute mark.

GEORGIA STATE 74, TEXAS STATE 69

GSU Sports Arena • Atlanta, Ga.

Georgia State blended balanced scoring with solid rebounding and key defensive stops to secure a 74-69 Sun Belt Conference win over Texas State.

The Panthers (7-5, 2-1) turned back the team picked to finish third in the Sun Belt with four players in double figures to post their fourth win in the past six games. Texas State (7-5, 2-1) had won five of its last six games coming into tonight.

GSU senior center Brittany Logan had her fifth double-double in the last six games with 13 points and 11 rebounds. Senior guard Kayla Nolan added 14 points and six rebounds. Freshman forward Kennesha Nichols made her first collegiate start and hit 5 of 6 shots for 10 points with eight rebounds. Junior guard Ashlee Cole came off the bench to hit three 3-point baskets and score 12 points. Senior Alisha Andrews added spark with eight points and six assists.

Texas State got 19 points and 10 rebounds from Erin Peoples to go with 17 points and eight assists from Ayriel Anderson and 15 rebounds from Jacqueline Jeffcoat.

Georgia State built an early 10-point lead at 17-7, but visiting Texas State came back to close the gap 29-25 at halftime.

In the second half, GSU bounced back out to another 10-point lead at 48-38 with 12:30 to play and grew that into a 12-point margin at 56-44 with 7:50 remaining. But Texas State was not going to give in that easy and rolled back to make it 57-54 with 5:38 still to go. It was 60-54 with 4:53 to go when things took a sour turn for GSU as forward Haley Gerrin sustained a back injury and was on the floor for several minutes before leaving the court. Logan had just been whistled for her fourth foul at the same time.

When Texas State hit two free throws to make it 60-56, Nolan hit two free throws and then a driving lay-up to push it back to 64-56 with 2:44. TROY 96, GEORGIA STATE 87

GSU Sports Arena • Atlanta, Ga.

In another shootout between the two teams that hold the Sun Belt women's basketball record for most points in a game, Troy outlasted Georgia State 96-87 Saturday.

The see-saw game included 17 lead changes and 10 ties before host Georgia State cooled off at the end and missed seven of its final eight shots after a tie at 83 with 4:37 to play.

GSU and Troy combined for a conference record 201 points in their last meeting in February, following a 162-point game last January. Today's was 183 combined points.

Today, Troy made 11 of 23 3-pointers in the shootout as GSU was matching with 10 of 27, but misfired in six of its last seven 3-point attempts. The game included 161 field goal attempts, 31 free throws and 40 assists.

Host Georgia State shook up its line-up today, starting two freshmen and a sophomore, who all responded. Freshman Makeba Ponder tied her personal-best game with 22 points and six treys. Sophomore Ashanti Groover's first start resulted in a double-double of 12 points and 10 rebounds. Ashley Watson added 14 points and four assists, while senior point guard Alisha Andrews made 10 assists to pass 500 career (508 now).

Georgia State started hottest, leading the first seven minutes and up by five at 18-13 with seven of 10 field goals. Troy took its turn making 3-pointers and moved out 38-33 at 6:52. The teams had six ties in the first half before GSU made a free throw with 20.8 seconds to go up 51-50 at halftime.

Defense actually played a big role to start the second half as Troy forced six Georgia State turnovers in the first five minutes after GSU had just five turnovers the entire first half. Troy led 60-53 at 16:20 as a result.

Georgia State used a 7-0 run mid-second half to go back ahead 69-68 at 10:35 and the Panthers were ahead 75-72 with 8:03 to play. The shootout was in full force with ties at 80 and 82 and again at 83 with 4:37 left and it looked like a game that whoever has the ball last will win.

Rachel Reid hit a trey at 4:21 to put Troy back up, but Ponder answered for GSU to close it to 88-87 at 3:20. Reid struck again from outside the arc at 3:05 and GSU went cold and could never close the gap. The final score was the largest lead of the game. Georgia State held a 50-44 rebound advantage with 24 offensive rebounds.

UT ARLINGTON 45, GEORGIA STATE 39

GSU Sports Arena • Atlanta, Ga.

Georgia State gave away a nine-point lead with eight minutes to play as visiting UT Arlington rallied for a 45-39 win in a Sun Belt Conference women's basketball game Thursday evening in the GSU Sports Arena.

Host Georgia State (7-8, 2-4) was its own enemy at the beginning and the end of the game. The Panthers started the game shooting 0 for 17 over 10 minutes and 18 seconds, but then got hot and moved out to six-point first half leads and took a 19-17 lead into halftime.

In the second half, Georgia State used a 6-0 run to go up 25-18 at 16:42. When UT Arlington tied it at 25 at 12:47, GSU again went on 9-0 run to take a 34-25 with 8:26 to play. But, Georgia State went back into its self-destruct mode, making seven turnovers and missing seven shots in 14 possessions. UT Arlington, gained the lead at 37-35 at 3:29 and never lost it. The Panthers did not make a basket until 16 seconds remained in the game.

For the game, Georgia State shot just 23.6 percent, making only 13 of 55 shots and committing 21 turnovers. UT Arlington (9-6, 3-3) wasn't much better, shooting 34.8 percent on 16 of 46 shots. The Mavericks committed 23 turnovers themselves.

Georgia State was led by Brittany Logan with 12 points and 12 rebounds, even though she shot just 3 for 13. Freshman Makeba Ponder added nine points, while fellow freshman Kennesha Nichols added nine rebounds. The Panthers played without injured point guard Alisha Andrews and ill forward Ashanti Groover, who started the past two games.

UT Arlington got 14 points and 12 rebounds from 6-foot-5 center Rebekah Van Dijk. The Mavericks had a 22-16 second-half rebound advantage to finish with a slim 40-38 game advantage.

"We weren't able to put the ball in the basket tonight and that's the object," coach Sharon Baldwin-Tener noted of the 39 points, just a few days after scoring 86 points in the last game. "We had pretty good energy and played some good defense at times. We really struggled with our shooting and really played poorly at the end of the game."

"This was a total team win and I'm proud of the response after a couple tough losses," head coach Sharon Baldwin-Tener said. "I can go down the roster and talk about how each player gave us something to this win. I am pleased with the effort and focus today. We were patient, we weren't as careless with the ball and we made the plays down the stretch to win. We needed to get this win to get some momentum back for this season."

Georgia State started strong, building a quick 22-10 lead at 12:12 by making 9 of its first 14 shots. ASU forged a 28-28 tie at five minutes, but GSU went into halftime with a 38-36 lead.

In the second half, host ASU made a brief surge to take a 47-43 lead at 13:53 and was hanging on to a 48-47 lead at 11:14 when GSU made a 7-0 run to climb back to a 54-48 lead at 9:32. ARKANSAS STATE 71, GEORGIA STATE 65

Convocation Center • Jonesboro, Ark.

Georgia State led for 22 of the first 27 minutes and was up 46-42 with under 13 minutes in the game when center Brittany Logan went to the bench with three fouls. Host Arkansas State capitalized with a 16-4 run with every point scored in the paint in her absence and took a 58-50 lead at 5:45 when she returned to the game. Arkansas State went on to win 76-65 with the largest lead of the game.

Georgia State closed back to 63-57 with 3:06 still to go, but ASU went to the free throw line 10 more times to secure the win.

A big difference in the game proved to be the 19 of 25 for the host Red Wolves at the free throw line, compared to just 2 of 4 for the visitors. Georgia State came into the game having shot the most free throws in the Sun Belt (357, 22.3 per game), but had the season low tonight that was 10 less than the previous low 14 shot in non-conference vs. Kennesaw State.

Georgia State (8-9, 3-5) got 18 points from 4-foot-11 point guard Alisha Andrews and 15 points from freshman guard Makeba Ponder. Logan scored 11 points in the 21 minutes she was able to play, hitting 5 of 7. Forward Kennesha Nichols added 10 points and nine rebounds for the Panthers. Georgia State shot 55 percent in the first half and 47.5 percent for the game.

Arkansas State (12-6, 7-1) had four players in double figures, with Sun Belt preseason player of the year Aundrea Gamble scoring 21 points on 8 of 19 shooting. Forward Khadi Haywood-Brown hit 4 of 5 3-pointers for 18 points. ASU made 7 of 21 3-pointers. But, it was the 19 of 25 free throws that provided the win. Arkansas State improves to 7-1 at home overall this year.

Georgia State, the only team to beat ASU at home last year, started on the same path tonight. GSU opened a 12-7 lead at 13:49. When Arkansas State closed to 14-13, Georgia State went on a 11-2 run to open a 10-point lead at 25-15 at 6:20. The visiting Panthers again led by 10 points at 33-23 with 1:55 in the half. Georgia State took a 37-29 lead into the halftime break.

In the second half, GSU maintained its lead for the first seven minutes, including the 46-42 lead when Logan went to the bench with three fouls.

UL LAFAYETTE 63, GEORGIA STATE 56

GSU Sports Arena • Atlanta, Ga.

Georgia State suffered through a poor shooting day, while visiting University of Louisiana at Lafayette knocked down 25 of 35 free throws to claim a 63-56 Sun Belt win Saturday.

The host Panthers (8-10, 3-5) fired a blank outside the 3-point arc, going 0 for 15, and missing 10 of its 22 free throws. Overall, GSU was just 22 of 60 from the field, a 36.7 percent rate. Looking for a spark, Georgia State substituted freely and played 13 players as 12 of them got into the books with points or rebounds. GSU held a 44-35 rebound advantage and made 11 steals.

The visiting Ragin' Cajuns (13-5, 5-4) won for the fifth time in its last six games by forcing 20 turnovers and making 11 steals. They shot 18 of 25 from the charity stripe (72 percent) in the second half to secure the victory.

The see-saw game was still a one-point game at 35-34 UL Lafayette with 12:29 to play, but a quick 8-0 burst put them up 43-34 at 10:52. Georgia State clawed its way back to trail just 51-47 with 2:55 to play. Jaylyn Gordon hit four free throw and a jumped to edge the Ragin' Cajuns back up 57-49 with 1:44 to go and the free throw shooting parade finished out the game.

GSU had the early momentum in the game, jumping out to a 14-6 lead with 9:17 to go in the first half. The Panthers actually made six of their first 10 shots in the game. But, then the cold streak started and UL Lafayette went on a 15-0 run over the next four minutes to take a 21-14 lead before GSU scored again at 5:25. The Ragin' Cajuns led at halftime 29-20.

Georgia State got 13 points from Kayla Nolan in 21 minutes off the bench and Brittany Logan came in to add 10 points and seven rebounds in 18 minutes after missing the start with illness. Freshman forward Kennesha Nichols added nine rebounds and eight points.

UL Lafayette saw Jaylyn lead with 18 points, but just 3 of 10 from the field. Keke Veal added 14 points, but shot just 4 of 13 from the field, while Robbie Brown added 14 points on her 4 of 12 shooting. The Ragin' Cajuns shot just 32.7 percent, but the 25 free throw points saved the day.

"We got a lot of good looks and missed a lot of easy shots, while uncharacteristically missing a ton of free throws, so it is hard to win when you score just 56 points," head coach Sharon Baldwin-Tener said. "It was deflating when we missed point blank shots and didn't reward our efforts with the baskets."

Game 19: Jan. 29, 2015, 5 p.m.

UT ARLINGTON 57, GEORGIA STATE 45

College Park Center • Arlington, Texas

Georgia State shot 16 percent in the first half and 32 percent for the game in suffering a 57-45 loss at UT Arlington Thursday night. The visiting Panthers compounded the poor shooting with 20 turnovers to complete the recipe for a loss.

This gives GSU's new nemesis, UTA, a sweep again in year two of the series. UTA, a team that finished last with three conference wins last year, swept GSU. This year, UTA, 2-6 against the rest of the league this year, swept GSU 45-39 and 57-45.

In the Jan. 15 win, UTA held GSU to 34.8 percent on 16 of 46. Tonight, it was 14 of 43 and 32.6 percent. UT Arlington is No. 13 in the NCAA in fewest points allowed per game (54.0), so the Mavericks improved that stat this evening.

Georgia State (8-11, 3-7) played without double-figure scoring Makeba Ponder (41 3-pointers), who was left in Atlanta with an injury. Six-foot-four center Brittany Logan, the leading scorer, got five fouls in just 12 minutes on the court, scoring just four points. Freshman forward Kennesha Nichols ended up being GSU's "leader" with eight points and six rebounds, while seldom-used guard Mariam Hannoun, who hasn't even played in nine games this year, scored seven points in 10 minutes.

UT Arlington (8-11, 4-6) got 16 points from 6-foot-5 center Rebekah Van Dijk, 10 of which came after Logan fouled out for GSU. Guard Cierra Johnson added 13 points with 7 of 8 free throws.

The first half was competitive and close with UTA up 19-15 with 1:52 to go. But, the host Mavericks hit a lay-up, then a free throw, and finally a buzzer-beating 3-pointer to go into the break at 25-15.

In the second half, the Mavs hit a pair of treys, Logan got three fouls, and UTA had a 12-4 run to make it 37-19 at 16:11. UTA took full control from there and had GSU doubled at 50-25 at with 7:50 to play. The largest lead of the game was 54-27 with 5:56 to play. Georgia State closed the game with a 18-3 run to make the final score 57-45.

Georgia State hit 15 of 18 free throws (83.3%), while making eight steals on the evening. GSU blocked five shots on the evening. The Panthers brought 13 players, all 13 played and 11 of them played 10 or more minutes this evening.

ARKANSAS STATE 61, GEORGIA STATE 47

GSU Sports Arena • Atlanta, Ga.

What chances Georgia State might have had of upsetting Arkansas State today were done in by poor shooting (29.7%) as the Red Wolves pulled away for a 61-47 win.

Georgia State (8-12, 3-8) was hanging with preseason favorite Arkansas State (15-7, 10-2) in a 48-41 game with seven minutes to play. But, the missed shots kept mounting up as ASU pulled away with an 8-0 spurt sparked by preseason player of the year Aundrea Gamble.

The Panthers were already hamstrung with their two leading scorers out today (center Brittany Logan and guard Makeba Ponder). No GSU player scored in double figures, yet 11 players scored and a 12th had three rebounds. Kennesha Nichols had eight points in 21 minutes and Ashlee Cole added seven points in 19 minutes off the bench. Point guard Alisha Andrews added six points, five assists and a couple steals.

Gamble, Arkansas State's leader, poured in 22 points on 9 of 14 field goals, with seven rebounds and four assists in playing all 40 minutes. When the game got close in the second half, Gamble stepped up with a basket, an assist and a couple free throws to spur their finish. Arkansas State shot 46 percent for the game, making 23 of 50 shots.

Georgia State shot 24.2 percent in the first half (8 of 33) in falling behind 29-20 at halftime, then finished the game at 29.7 percent on 19 of 64 attempts. Scrappy GSU held a 40-37 rebound advantage, thanks largely to 17 offensive rebounds. The Panthers also made eight steals and blocked five shots.

"When we shoot 29 percent with a lot of open looks, then that is on us," coach Sharon Baldwin-Tener said. "We missed a lot of easy shots. We ran what we wanted on offense, we just missed the shots. Our defense gave us a little chance and we held them below their scoring average. Being without our two leading scorers might have hurt us a little today, but that is our problem, too. Gamble is a great player. She went all 40 minutes and does everything in the game, from passing, rebounding, getting steals and, of course, scoring."

Georgia State's mid-season slump continues with a seventh loss in the last eight games. Arkansas State's rise has seen the Red Wolves win 10 of the last 12 games.

The Panthers will look to end that streak at 10th place Georgia Southern on Thursday as they hope to be back at full strength.

GEORGIA STATE 82, GEORGIA SOUTHERN 54

Hanner Fieldhouse • Statesboro, Ga.

Making nine of its first 10 shots, Georgia State jumped out to a 22-4 lead in seven minutes and rolled to an 82-54 Sun Belt Conference win over Georgia Southern Thursday night in Hanner Fieldhouse.

GSU (9-12, 4-8) made four 3-point baskets in the opening run and ended 9 of 20 outside the 3-point arc on the evening. Leading the Georgia State onslaught was freshman Makeba Ponder with 20 points, her fifth game with 20 or more this year, as she returned from a two-game injury in grand style. Point guard Alisha Andrews was the catalyst with the first two 3-pointers of the game en route to 16 points and five steals.

Georgia Southern (4-16, 1-10) made its only run of the evening (10-2) to close to nine at 33-24 with 3:07 in the half. But, Ponder hit two more treys and State went into halftime with a 41-24 lead over Southern.

In the second half, Georgia State opened with a 13-3 burst, including two treys by Andrews, and it was doubled up at 54-27 with 17:10 to play and the game was never really in doubt after that.

Georgia State shot 55.2 percent in the first half (16 of 29) and hit the identical number in the second half to finish 32 of 58 for the game. The Panthers controlled the boards with a 36-25 margin. Georgia State's defense made nine steals and held Georgia Southern to 38 percent shooting (21 of 55).

"When you win, it usually means a lot of people did a lot of things to make that happen and we got lots of contributors tonight," coach Sharon Baldwin-Tener said. "A key I emphasized at halftime was to come back out and start the second half at 0-0 and make another early run and we did that. We had given up nine second-chance points in the first half and we talked about correcting that and only gave up three second-chance points in the second half."

Freshman forward Kennesha Nichols added 11 points, five rebounds, four steals and three assists in 21 solid minutes. Forward Haley Gerrin started and produced seven points and seven rebounds in her 22 minutes. Gaby Moss started tonight and got seven early points and nine for the game in 17 minutes of action. Brittany Logan returned after a game's absence and had six rebounds and five points in 15 minutes.

GEORGIA STATE PANTHERS

Game 22: Feb. 7, 2015, 2 p.m.

GEORGIA STATE 84, SOUTH ALABAMA 78

Mitchell Arena • Mobile, Ala.

Georgia State roared to an 84-78 win over South Alabama Saturday at the Mitchell Center in Sun Belt women's basketball.

For GSU, it was a double-day of fun as it marked a second-straight conference road win scoring more than 80 points. Point guard Alisha Andrews had a double-double with 15 points and 10 assists. Freshman forward Kennesha Nichols added a double-double with 10 rebounds and 10 points. A pair came off the bench to score in double figures as freshman Makeba Ponder drilled a team-high 19 points with 5 of 10 3-point shots, while senior Brittany Logan pounded in 16 points in the paint with eight rebounds.

GSU's double pleasure included shooting over 50 percent in both halves, with 56.3 (18 of 32 in the first half) and then 58.3 (14 of 24) in the second half. That added up to a 57.1 percent for the game. This was a second straight game over 50 percent (55.1 in Thursday's road win). The Panthers were 47 percent outside the 3-point line (47.1%). This win was the 250th career head coaching win for Sharon Baldwin-Tener.

Georgia State (10-12, 5-8) had substantial leads most of the way, but South Alabama kept fighting back thanks to 37 points from guard Marquita Daniels. Visiting GSU got the lead into double figures midway through the first half (28-18 at 9:37) and had it at 13 points at 34-21. But, Daniels got hot and cut the lead back to 34-32 at 5:38. GSU went into the locker room with a 43-39 lead.

In the second half, it was déjà vu as GSU built a quick 10-point lead at 55-45 (14:27) only to see the host Jaguars zoom right back to 61-60 at 7:43. Georgia State then went on an 11-0 run to open it back to 72-60 with five minutes to go. USA made its final surge back to 77-72 at 1:53 and then Andrews softly banked in a 12-footer from the side to build the cushion back.

The Panthers held a 34-27 rebound advantage with 12 offensive boards. GSU passed the ball well with 20 assists. GSU's biggest problem was 23 fouls called that saw three players with four fouls (Andrews, Logan and Gerrin) down the stretch and limited their minutes.

This was GSU's fifth game with 80 or more points this season and 12th of the 22 games with 70 or more points. The Panthers had a rebound advantage again Saturday. It was the 13th time this season with a rebound advantage and a 25th time in the last 36 games.

TEXAS STATE 71, GEORGIA STATE 61

Strahan Coliseum • San Marcos, Texas

Georgia State's 27 percent second-half shooting could not overcome Texas State's 11 3-point baskets as the host Bobcats earned a 71-61 decision over the Panthers Saturday.

Georgia State, which had shot 50 percent or better in four straight halves and then 45 percent in the first half today, simply couldn't get the ball into the basket in the second half, making just 9 of its 33 shots. Three of those were even breakaway open lay-ups that wouldn't fall. The loss ended a two-game win streak.

Texas State, which leads the Sun Belt with 163 3-point baskets now, was even above average today with its 11 treys and its third double-figure trey game of the season, one shy of its season best.

A key point in the game was with the score 48-45 Texas State and 12:50 to play. Bobcat guard Ayriel Anderson had to throw a 3-point attempt up from well behind the 3-point arc as the shot clock expired with the ball in the air and on its way into the basket. GSU then missed an open lay-up and Raven Burns hit back-to-back 3-pointers to up the margin to 57-45 with eight minutes to go. Georgia State closed down to eight points four more times, but could never get a needed stop to close it further.

In the first half, Texas State hit six of its first nine shots of the game and at one point had a 12-point lead at 29-17. But, Georgia State clawed its way back to tie the game at 33 and again at 35 before Texas State scored to take a 37-35 lead into halftime.

Georgia State (10-13, 5-9) got a personal-best tying 16 points, including 11 in the second half, from junior guard Gaby Moss. She appeared motivated after getting a personal foul and then technical for raising her arms toward the referee. Freshman guard Makeba Ponder added 13 points with three 3-point baskets. Point guard Alisha Andrews, a spark in the two previous wins, got two fouls and sat the final 10 minutes of the first half, having just five points and four assists today.

Third-place Texas State (15-9, 10-5) was led by its two all-conference leaders. Erin Peoples scored the first seven points of the game and finished with 24 points and eight rebound. Guard Ayriel Anderson hit 4 of 8 outside the 3-point line for 16 points to go with four assists.

Thanks to GSU's 40 missed shots, Texas State was able to garner a 41-35 rebound advantage. Both teams missed only one free throw all day as Texas State was 14 of 15 and Georgia State 10 of 11.

GEORGIA STATE 69, SOUTH ALABAMA 54

GSU Sports Arena • Atlanta, Ga.

Sparked by a trio of guards in double figures and a career-high game from Gaby Moss, Georgia State rolled to a 69-54 women's basketball win over South Alabama Thursday.

Georgia State won for the third time in four games to improve to 11-13 and 6-9 in the Sun Belt. The Panthers now sit in a tie for seventh place with Appalachian State and UL Monroe, a pair of teams GSU has beaten once this season and faces again down the stretch run.

Moss, a junior, had not scored in double figures all season until scoring 16 points last Saturday for a third career-game with 16 points. Tonight, she hit 8 of 12 shots for a new high of 18 points after hitting 12 in the first half. Senior point guard Andrews continued her solid all-around play, scoring 14 points, making five assists, grabbing six rebounds and making a pair of steals. Freshman guard Makeba Ponder added 12 points off the bench, including a perfect 7 of 7 from the free-throw line. Their last names of Moss, Andrews and Ponder spell MAP and provide direction for the team's final stretch run.

GSU held an important 38-26 rebound advantage, including 13 offensive boards, thanks to seven rebounds each from forwards Haley Gerrin and Kennesha Nichols.

South Alabama (4-21, 1-15) was led by 26 points from Breanna Hall on 9 of 132 shooting with 3 of 7 outside the 3-point arc. Chyna Ellis added 15 points and eight rebounds. Marquita Daniels, the Atlanta native who scored an arena record 37 points against GSU in Mobile, Ala., had just four points tonight on 2 of 7 shooting.

In 9 of GSU's 11 wins this year, they have held the opponent to 40% shooting or less. The only two times the Panthers won when allowing 40% or more was at South Alabama (47%) and at home against Texas State (41%).

Host Georgia State got off to a 7-2 start in five minutes and grew that to 11 points at 21-10 at 8:56 on the clock. GSU led by 15 and 29-14 before South Alabama closed to 34-23 at halftime.

In the second half, Georgia State pulled up by 15 points at 13:30 (45-30) and led three times by 16 points, the last at 56-40 with 7:17 to play. The Panthers led 60-45 with 5:44 when South Alabama made a late charge that included nine straight points and back-to-back treys from Hall. A trey from Ponder at the 2:00 mark pushed that back to nine and GSU converted free throws down the stretch to get the lead back to 15.

Game 25: Feb. 22, 2015, Noon

GEORGIA STATE 80, APPALACHIAN STATE 70

GSU Sports Arena • Atlanta, Ga.

Georgia State outlasted Appalachian State in a high-energy, fiercely-fought 80-70 game Saturday at the GSU Sports Arena. After leading for most of the game, Georgia State saw visiting App State go a 12-2 run from 14 minutes to seven minutes and re-capture the lead 62-59 at 7:17. But, determined GSU turned defensive and went on a dominating 19-1 run to make it 78-63 with 1:08 to play.

Both teams were tied for seventh place in the Sun Belt and with only four more games to go, this one could have an impact on being one of the eight teams to qualify. Georgia State has won four of its last five games to improve to 12-13 overall and 7-9 in league play.

The balanced Panthers got major contributions in a variety of ways. Junior guard Gaby Moss tied her personal-best with a second straight 18-point game, finishing 8 of 11. Senior center Brittany Logan provided the power inside with 18 points (6 of 7) and six rebounds. Freshman forward Kennesha Nichols had a personal-best 16 points to go with six rebounds.

But, the biggest GSU catalyst must have been 4-foot-11 Alisha Andrews, whom it seemed was everywhere on the court. Andrews came up big on defense with six steals, directed the offense with five assists and scored as needed with nine points. When a big played needed made, Andrews was making it.

Andrews' first steal today was her 300th career theft that makes her the second active player in NCAA women's basketball to have 1,000 points, 500 assists, 300 rebounds and 300 steals. (All-American Brittany Boyd of Cal).

Georgia State had its third game of the last five shooting better than 50 percent. The Panthers finished 30 of 52 from the field today (57.7%), while adding to that consistency with another 80% effort at the free throw line (16 of 20).

The teams started trading baskets from the opening tip, with each team making four of their six shots for a 9-9 tie after four minutes. GSU kept going with 7 of 9 made to open a 15-11 led as Gaby Moss had nine of those first 15 points. GSU's 8-0 run built a 19-11 lead at 11:12, but had a cost as Andrews' picked up a second foul and went to the bench.

GSU had three 10-point leads at 26-16, 34-24 and 36-26 at 4:01 of the first half. A couple treys closed that gap and the host Panthers went into halftime up 44-38. GSU shot 18 of 27 (66.7%) in the first half. In the second half, GSU edged its led back up to nine points at 57-48 with 14:23. But, GSU went cold and made just 3 of 12 shots as App State got hot and went on its run to take the 62-59 lead at 7:17.

Steals and assists by Andrews started GSU's deciding 19-1 run. Nichols had three straight buckets in that run and Ponder hit a big 3-pointer at 1:51.

Jack Stephens Center • Little Rock, Ark.

The University of Arkansas at Little Rock took a 33-31 halftime lead and then held Georgia State to eight second-half points in claiming a 56-39 Sun Belt Conference women's basketball win Thursday at the Jack Stephens Center.

First-place UALR (23-4, 16-2), the No. 4 team in defense in the NCAA at 50.8 points per game, forced Georgia State (12-14, 7-10) into 15 second-half turnovers and limited them to 3 of 13 field goals. That gave GSU more turnovers than shot attempts for that second half.

GSU, which had shot 50 percent or better in three of its last five games, hit 54.5 percent in the first half with just eight turnovers in trading baskets, even leading by three points at 20-17. But, UALR shot 48.3 percent in claiming that 33-31 first half lead.

The second-half was all UALR's defense, one which averages forcing 20 turnovers a game with man-to-man defense. Tonight, the Trojans finished with 23 turnovers and GSU finished at 42.9 percent for the game.

Georgia State did maintain a 30-26 rebound advantage.

The game was still just a three-point game with 11:40 to go at 40-37. However, UALR clamped down and went on a 13-1 run over the next eight minutes to make it 53-38 at 3:15. Georgia State scored just one point over the final 10 minutes of the game, primarily due to turnovers and not missed shots.

Point guard Ashley Watson led Georgia State with 13 points on 5 of 7 field goals and a pair of assists as she filled in for suspended point guard Alisha Andrews, the league's best with 95 assists and 44 turnovers. Center Brittany Logan added 11 points on 4 of 4 field goals and 3 of 3 free throws, along with six rebounds. Morgan Jackson added six rebounds to tie for the team rebound lead. The Panthers had four players score in double figures.

Forward Kiera Clark led UALR with 16 points and eight rebounds. Point guard Alexius Dawn added 13 points and five assists, but was just 3 of 12 outside the 3-point line. UALR shot just 6 of 22 from 3-point range, but 16 of 33 otherwise. UALR had 17 assists on its 22 baskets made. The Trojans committed just seven turnovers for a +16 margin in the game. UALR converted 22 points off its turnovers.

The 39 points was almost 20 points below GSU's season scoring average and tied the season-low total of 39 at UT Arlington on Jan. 15.

TROY 88, GEORGIA STATE 75

Trojan Arena • Troy, Ala.

Georgia State scored 50 points and shot 62.5 percent in the second half, but that wasn't good enough in the usual Troy shoot-out as the host Trojans held on for its 88-75 win Saturday in women's basketball.

These two Sun Belt rivals have yet to play a game with under 160 combined points and they bombed away today with 137 field goal attempts, 43 free throws, with 38 assists and 26 steals.

Troy (19-9, 14-5) won its seventh straight game by forcing 26 turnovers and turning those into 40 points as the Trojans took full advantage of Georgia State being without suspended starting point guard Alisha Andrews, who leads the Sun Belt in assist-turnover ratio. Troy ended with 19 steals.

Today, the Trojans started fast, opening a 15-3 lead by 14:54 of the game by making 6 of 9 field goals, while GSU hit just 2 of 9. In the first half, Georgia State could get no closer than 12 points at 35-23 with 2:50. But, Troy finished strong to take a 43-25 halftime advantage. GSU shot just 8 of 30 field goals in the first half (26.7%) and Troy went 0 for 13 outside the 3-point arc.

In the second half, it was Georgia State who started strong and went on to outscore Troy 50-45 in the second stanza. Georgia State kept in striking distance by making 13 of its first 17 shots in the second half and it was 66-54 with 9:43 to play. But, Troy grew the lead back to 20 on a trey at 81-61 with 5:58.

Georgia State got 23 points in 23 minutes from freshman guard Makeba Ponder, who sat much of the first half with three fouls. She hit 5 of 8 3-point baskets to up her season total to 63, tied for second-most made in a season at GSU. She's hitting better than 40 percent outside the arc for the season. Senior center Brittany Logan added a double-double with 15 points and 12 rebounds in her 22 minutes with four fouls. Guard Ashley Watson added 10 more points and eight assists for the Panthers.

Troy was led by senior center Ronita Garrett with 17 points and 10 rebounds. Ashley Beverly-Kelley added 15 more, despite 0 for 6 outside the 3-point line.

Georgia State finished with a 42-40 rebound advantage and had 20 assists to Troy's 18 helpers.

The Panthers sit tied for eighth place in the Sun Belt with UL Monroe, the team they will play on Thursday in Monroe.

GEORGIA STATE PANTHERS

Game 28: March 5 2015, 5 p.m.

GEORGIA STATE 66, UL MONROE 61

Fant-Ewing Coliseum • Monroe, La.

Georgia State claimed a berth in the eight-team Sun Belt Conference tournament with a 66-61 over UL Monroe.

GSU (13-15, 8-11) got 13 assists, eight points and three steals from point guard Alisha Andrews, along with 15 points on 5 of 7 treys from freshman Makeba Ponder. But, junior guard Gaby Moss was the one who really stepped up at the right time, scoring all seven of her points in the last two minutes of the game.

The see-saw game saw 11 lead changes and nine ties, the last coming at 59 with 2:00 to play. Moss then drained a 3-point shot on a pass from Andrews at 1:40 to put GSU up 62-59. When Alaysia Hunter scored a lay-up at 1:10, Moss came right back with a mid-range jump shot to make it 64-61 with 45 seconds left. Chelsea Tieuel missed with 16 seconds left, Haley Gerrin got the rebound and Andrews raced around the court as ULM tried to foul her and couldn't before she found Gerrin on the other end for the final basket with four seconds.

Host ULM (11-17, 7-12) had been tied with Georgia State in eighth place going into the game, but GSU had won in Atlanta and now owns the season series and tie-break advantage. GSU could finish in seventh with a win in Saturday's finale with Georgia Southern and an Appalachian State loss to UT Arlington on Saturday.

ULM got off to a fast start and led the first 10 minutes before GSU pulled ahead 14-13. But, ULM came back to take its largest lead of the game at 26-19 with 5:34. Georgia State went on a 10-2 run to take a 29-28 lead at halftime.

The chess match by the coaches saw them juggle all the players in foul trouble as post players Logan, Gerrin and Nichols all sat with two or more in the first half. Five GSU players had three fouls. ULM saw its star, Sharnice Brooks pick up two fouls in the first half and play just two minutes. ULM had three players with three fouls.

Georgia State shot 53.6 percent in the second half (15 of 28) and 45.8 for the game, getting to the free throw line to make just 3 of 4 shots. ULM shot 39 percent for the game (23 of 59) and made 10 of 14 free throws. The Panthers made 9 of 20 3-point shots, its sixth game with nine or more treys this season.

GSU tied its season high of 22 assists, led by the 13 from Andrews. It was her seventh game with 10 or more assists. The 13 tie for the third-most made in a game in school history (16 by Denise Lloyd in 1981).

Ponder produced her sixth game with five or more 3-point baskets made. She leads the Sun Belt and has 68 on the season (one shy of the school season record).

GEORGIA SOUTHERN 82, GEORGIA STATE 74

GSU Sports Arena • Atlanta, Ga.

In the regular-season finale and Senior Day, Georgia State will head to the Sun Belt tournament with a loss as hot-shooting Georgia Southern posted an 82-74 win.

The Panthers will head to the conference tournament Wednesday as the eight-seeded team against top seed UALR at 12:30 p.m. The Eagles will head into the off-season after ending a 15-game losing streak with today's win.

Georgia Southern earned the win by making 12 of 21 3-point shots (57.1%) after shooting 28 percent outside the arc all season. The Eagles hit 51.7 percent overall, making 30 of 58 shots to score 82 points after scoring 39, 35 and 41 points in its past three games. Georgia State had beaten the Eagles 82-54 in Statesboro earlier this season.

Host Georgia State, meanwhile, was missing shots and making just nine of 31 in the first half (29%) as Georgia Southern built a 41-25 halftime advantage. Georgia State was down 22 points at 5:36 (73-51) and closed back to nine points at 2:42 (75-66) and on down to seven points at 1:10 (77-70), but it was all too little, too late.

The Panthers did shoot 56 percent in the second half in scoring 49 second-half points and held a 45-31 rebound advantage for the game. Georgia State, second in the Sun Belt with 155 3-point baskets at a 35.5 percent rate, was just 5 of 20 outside the arc (25%).

Georgia State (13-16, 8-12) has five seniors and a pair scored in double figures today. Point guard Alisha Andrews had 12 points, eight assists, six steals and five rebounds, while center Brittany Logan had 14 points and seven rebounds. Georgia State was led by Gaby Moss with 17 points, while freshman Kennesha Nichols gave the Panthers four players in double figures with her 12 points.

Georgia Southern (5-24, 2-18) got 25 points on 10 of 12 shooting (4 of 4 outside the 3-point line) from guard Angel McGowan. McGowan, normally a 24 percent shooter outside the arc and 37.9 shooter overall, hit her 83 percent overall today and 100 percent outside the arc. Patrice Butler, a 6-foot-2 center from Norcross, came off the bench to star today. Butler, who has made 15 3-pointers all season, hit 5 of 7 today (71.4%) and 8 of 12 overall to score 21 points in 24 minutes. Anna Claire Knight added 19 points and nine rebounds.

The visiting Eagles started strong by making 10 of their first 16 shots in building a 24-11 lead nine minutes into game, while Georgia State started by making just 5 of its first 23 shots. Georgia Southern had a 38-16 lead at 3:53.

In the second half, Georgia State closed to 44-31 with 18:15 still left, but Butler's 3-pointers put the visitors back up 55-32 at 14:30.

UALR 71, GEORGIA STATE 54

Lakefront Arena • New Orleans, La.

Georgia State fell to No. 1 seed UALR 71-54 in the opening round of the Sun Belt Women's Basketball Championship at Lakefront Arena Wednesday.

The Panthers had an 11-0 run to close to 49-41 with 10:18 to play and were down nine at 54-45 with 8:26 to play, but UALR was able to pull away. GSU was down 63-52 with four minutes left as UALR closed on an 8-2 run to advance to the semifinals.

Georgia State (13-17) had three players finish in double figures. Senior center Brittany Logan led with 14 points and 10 rebounds. Alisha Andrews added 11 points with three 3-point baskets. Andrews ends her career with 201 3-pointers and is the only active player in the NCAA with 1,000 points, 300 assists, 300 steals, 300 rebounds and 200 3-point baskets. Freshman forward Kennesha Nichols added 10 points and five rebounds. Freshman Makeba Ponder made a 3-point basket to tie the school record for a season with 69 3-point baskets. Georgia State finished with a 34-29 rebound advantage.

UALR (26-4) is No. 3 in the NCAA in defense behind Connecticut and Chattanooga in allowing 50.4 points a game. They are among the national leaders in forcing 20.1 turnovers a game. Today, the Trojans forced 21 turnovers and turned those into 28 points. First-team all-conference guard Taylor Gault led UALR with 23 points. Guard Ka'Neshea Cobbins was stellar with 5 of 5 shooting and 15 points to go with 10 assists. Point guard Alexius Dawn was a major factor with six 3-point baskets and 18 points.

"UALR's defensive pressure causing 21 turnovers was the big factor in today's game," head coach Sharon Baldwin-Tener said. "Their record, RPI and any rankings tell you how good they are and we couldn't get stops in the second half. I did tell my team I was proud of their fight as they cut the lead down to eight points and kept battling all game long. UALR had to play its top players 40, 39 and 39 minutes in order to earn this win, so that tells you how they were fighting, too."

Georgia State did have a 32-30 advantage with points in the paint as they matched the Trojans front line. And, the Panthers had 14 offensive rebounds to claim the 34-29 rebound advantage.

UALR went on to win the Sun Belt and finish 28-4 and earn the automatic NCAA bid. The Trojans were given a No. 11 seed by the NCAA.

Four GSU seniors played their final games (Andrews, Logan, Smith and Watson), while Kayla Nolan was back in Atlanta with a broken finger and unable to play.

UALR won the Sun Belt, then won its opening game in the NCAA Tournament.

Game Recap

RUSTON, La. - On Saturday in front of 6,239 fans, the Georgia State University women's basketball team's first NCAA Tournament appearance was short-lived as the Lady Panthers dropped an 84-48 decision in the opening round on No. 6-ranked Louisiana Tech's home floor.

State (24-7) had a 5-4 lead four minutes into the game but the Lady Techsters (29-4) scored 16 of the next 18 points to take a 20-7 advantage with 9:46 left in the opening half. The hosts increased the lead to 41-25 by the intermission.

In the second half, GSU could get no closer than 14 points.

"We felt like we could have played better and had a better showing but this is the first time for us here and I think our players understand what the level of competition is about when you get to this point, and hopefully we'll be back and better prepared," Georgia State head coach Lea Henry said.

Tech shot 47.8 percent from the field in the contest, compared to 34.0 percent for its guests. The home team had a slim 38-35 rebound edge and forced the Lady Panthers into a season-high 30 turnovers. State also finished with a season-low four assists.

In her final game at GSU, Leslie McElrath led the attack with 17 points and six rebounds while Kara Edwards proved to be a spark off the bench with 13 points on 5-of-9 shooting from the floor.

Takeisha Lewis tallied 17 points and 12 boards to pace the winners while Kenya Bibbs also scored 17 points off the bench.

Contacting the Communications Office

The 2015-16 Georgia State University Women's Basketball Media Guide was produced to aid the media in its coverage of Panther basketball. Additional information and photographs are available to accredited members of the media through the Georgia State Sports Communications office.

The office telephone for women's basketball SID Charlie Taylor is (404) 414-4031. The address for the office is: Georgia State Sports Arena; 125 Decatur Street, Suite 102; Atlanta, GA 30303.

Media Credentials

If media or professional scouts are interested in covering a home game or practice, please contact Charlie Taylor by e-mail (ctaylor@gsu.edu). All credentials for home games will be made available for pickup one hour in advance on game day at Will Call, located at the first floor lobby table in the front of the building, across from the elevator. Prior to one hour before tipoff, credentials may be picked up in the sports communications office. Media parking is available on a limited basis and requests must be made in advance.

Media Services

Up-to-date game notes and statistics, along with roster cards and media guides, will be made available prior to each home game. A complete boxscore and play-by-play will be provided and will be online. Halftime box scores will be distributed to each media representative during the intermission. Statistics will be kept live online on GeorgiaStateSports.com. Home games are broadcast on ESPN3.

Interviews

All interview requests for Georgia State head coach Sharon Baldwin-Tener, as well as any of the staff or players, should be made through Assistant A.D. Charlie Taylor.

Press Row

Media seating at all home games is at courtside on the opposite side of the floor from the scorer's table and team benches. Halftime and final statistics will be delivered as quickly as possible to press row.

The telephone number at press row is (404) 413-4099. Phone lines will be available for both home and visiting radio broadcasters, as well as other media needs.

For Sun Belt Conference standings, statistics and other information, log on to its website at www.sunbeltsports.org. Contact Keith Nunez at nunez@sunbeltsports.org for conference information.
